CLEMSON — A ROCK SOLID TRADITION IN ITS 100TH SEASON

Today's Features

6 Will Young

Clemson's senior offensive guard grew up in Clemson. In fact, he used to sell programs prior to home games, now he is on the cover. Turn to page 6 for a profile on a Tiger who truly appreciates Clemson football history.

8A Centennial Scrapbook

This is the first of a series that will continue into next year. Our first installment documents 1896-1930. Turn to this 8-page section for a look at the first Clemson team, a game at Bowman Field and the only Clemson coach to post a perfect record against South Carolina.

42 The 1939 Season

The members of Clemson's 1939 Cotton Bowl Championship team will dot the I in Tigers during pregame ceremonies. They certainly deserve this honor. Bob Bradley takes us back to a landmark season in Clemson football history.

53 Centennial Celebration

Tonight kicks off Clemson's Centennial Celebration of football. It all starts with fireworks, honoring of the 1939 team and the "Turn-back-the-Clock" uniforms. But, there are many more activities and special events planned over the next 12 months.

54 Uniform History

The Tigers will be adorned in 1939 uniforms tonight, the first time since 1969 the Tigers will wear a uniform that does not feature a Tiger Paw. The Clemson uniform has changed quite a bit since the Tigers first took the field in 1896.

65 Ed McDaniel

Clemson and North Carolina have the most linebackers in the NFL with eight. One of the stars of Clemson's contingent of NFL linebackers is Ed McDaniel, a captain of Clemson's 1991 ACC Championship team.

68 Matt Reeves

Matt Reeves has been a consummate team player for four Tiger teams. Turn to page 68 for a rundown on the life of an original walk-on in a major college program.

77 Lady Tiger Tennis

Andy Johnston's Lady Tiger tennis team had the highest team GPA in Clemson history last Spring (3.64). Many of these outstanding student-athletes return this year as Clemson hopes to return to the national top 20 rankings.

81 Men's Track

It is an Olympic year so the entire world will be following the college track season with keen interest. The Tigers have some Olympic hopefuls who are looking forward to leading Clemson to another top 15 NCAA finish.

113 Ed Hausgen

Clemson's reserve linebacker and special teams demon had a record setting high school career. A lack of size kept him from getting a scholarship to a Division I school, but he has been a significant contributor to the last four Clemson teams.

120 The Last Word

The 1977 Clemson-Georgia game kicked off an exciting era in Clemson football. The Tigers have been among the nation's best teams the last 18 years and a 7-6 win at Athens that year set things in the right direction. A 13-3 win over the Bulldogs in 1981 propelled Clemson to the National Championship.

On the Cover: Tonight kicks off the Centennial Celebration of Clemson football. To mark the occasion the Tigers will wear replica uniforms from the 1939 season, the first college football team in history to don "Turn-back-the-clock" uniforms. Will Young, whose grandfather, Ed McLendon, was a member of that 1939 Cotton Bowl Championship team, is the model on the cover of tonight's program. A three-year starter at guard, no one on the Clemson team has a better appreciation of the true Clemson spirit.

TODAY'S GAME

by Tim Bourret

Clemson-Georgia Rivalry

Georgia has dominated the series against Clemson overall with a 38-17-4 lead dating back to 1897. But, since 1977 the two teams have met 14 times and the series stands at 7-6-1 in Georgia's favor for those 14 games. The total points scored for Clemson during those games is 219 and the total for Georgia is 241. Thus, just 22 total points separate the two teams over the last 14 meetings.

But, in the 11 meetings between the two teams during the 1977-87 era the average margin of victory was just 4.7 points. Nine of those 11 meetings were decided by a touchdown or less. Three of the last four games between the two teams in the 1980s were decided by a made field goal within the last 11 seconds.

"The rivalry really took off in 1980-82 when Georgia and Clemson won National Championships, then the two teams met on National TV on Labor Day Night in 1982," said Clemson Head Coach Tommy West. "To think that two teams won the national championship in back-to-back seasons (Georgia in 1980 and Clemson in 1981) and they were just an hour and a half apart, that really added to it."

The Clemson-Georgia game is a non-conference contest for the Tigers, but it is as important to West as any game on the schedule. West is a native of Gainesville, GA, where he was an all-state baseball and football player at Gainesville High. He was a fifth round draft pick by the Chicago Cubs out of Gainesville High, but opted to attend Tennessee on a football scholarship. He was certainly involved with the rivalry when it was at its zenith in the 1980s.

Here is a Game by Game Review of the Georgia-Clemson Series in the decade of the 1980s:

1980 at Athens, Georgia 20, Clemson 16

Despite outgaining the Bulldogs 351-157, Clemson fell to the eventual National Champions by four points. Scott Woerner returned a punt 67 yards for a touchdown and set up another with a 97-yard interception return to lead the Bulldogs. Mike Gasque came off the bench to quarterback the Tigers and scored Clemson's only TD of the game. Obed Ariri added three field goals to account for the rest of the Clemson scoring. Clemson drove to the Georgia 10, late in the game, but a Jeff Hipp interception ended the threat. Herschel Walker rushed for 121 yards in 23 attempts, but did not score a touchdown. Clemson ran 90 plays to just 48 for Georgia and had the advantage in first downs, 26-10. Clemson won the stats in rushing yards, passing yards, first downs and time of possession, yet lost the game, one of just two games in the last 16 years that has happened. The other was two weeks ago against Virginia.

1981 at Clemson, Clemson 13, Georgia 3

Clemson forced defending National Champion Georgia into a record nine turnovers and went on to a 13-3 victory over the fourth-ranked Bulldogs. That is the highest ranked team Clemson has ever beaten in Death Valley. It was the only regular season loss of Herschel Walker's career. Clemson's defense had five interceptions and four fumbles and all nine takeaways were executed by nine different Clemson defenders. Homer Jordan connected with Perry Tuttle on an eight-yard scoring pass for the only touchdown of the game. Georgia won the total offense battle 255-236, but Clemson won the war.

1982 at Athens, Georgia 13, Clemson 7

Georgia won the defensive struggle played on Labor Day night on national TV. Georgia had just 94 yards rushing in 48 attempts. Herschel Walker had an injured thumb and was not suppose to play, but ended the game with more carries than any other player (11 for 20 yards). He finished his career without a touchdown against the Tigers. Homer Jordan was 15-28 passing, but threw a career high four interceptions. Stan Dooley scored Georgia's only TD on a blocked punt by Dale Carver. It was one of only two blocked punts of Dale Hatcher's career. The game marked the fourth straight year the Bulldogs did not score a touchdown on a sustained (over 15 yards) drive against the Clemson defense. Yet, Georgia had a 2-2 record in those games.

1983 at Clemson, Clemson 16, Georgia 16

Terry Hoage blocked two Clemson field goal attempts in this thrilling game. The contest ended with Donald Igwebuike's 68-yard field goal attempt to win the game, followed by Kevin Butler's attempt from 66 yards. It is believed to be the only time in NCAA history that there have been consecutive field goal attempts by different teams on the last two plays of the game. Butler's 31-yard field goal with 2:11 left had tied the game at 16. Kenny Flowers scored Clemson's only TD, while Clarence Kay scored Georgia's TD.

1984 at Athens, Georgia 26, Clemson 23

Kevin Butler booted a 60-yard field goal, his fourth of the game, with just 11 seconds left to give Georgia the victory. It is the longest field goal in history against Clemson. Donald Igwebuike kicked three field goals for the Tigers. Clemson allowed a 20-6 halftime lead slip away. The Tigers were ranked second in the nation coming into the game, the highest regular season ranking in Clemson history. Clemson gained 356 yards to Georgia's 282. The game ended when Ray Williams ran the Georgia kickoff back to the Bulldog 35, then a personal foul was called that would have moved the ball to the Georgia 20. But, officials ruled the foul had taken place after time ran out and the game was declared over.

1985 at Clemson, Georgia 20, Clemson 13

Georgia gained 360 yards on the ground against a young Tiger defense. Georgia still had to score 17 points in the fourth period to win the contest, the first national television game (CBS) ever from Clemson. Jim Riggs gave Clemson a 7-3 halftime lead on a 43-yard scoring pass from Randy Anderson. Peter Anderson put Georgia ahead when he recovered a Bulldog fumble in the endzone. No lineman has scored against Clemson since.

1986 at Georgia, Clemson 31, Georgia 28

David Treadwell booted a 46-yard field goal, his longest of the season, as time ran out to give Clemson the victory. The score was 28-28 heading into the fourth period in this offensive game, a rarity for a Danny Ford-Vince Dooley battle. Terrence Flagler had 90 yards rushing and 58 receiving in the first of many outstanding performances in his first-team All-American season. Clemson gained 428 yards total offense to 383 for the Bulldogs. Norman Haynes, a native of Athens, GA, led Clemson in tackles with 14. It was just the second game in Georgia history that the Bulldogs had scored as many as 28 points, yet lost the game, and it was just Clemson's second win ever in Sanford Stadium.

1987 at Clemson, Clemson 21, Georgia 20

For the second year in a row, David Treadwell booted the game-winner, this time a 21-yarder with two seconds left. It was the fourth field goal of the game for Treadwell, which tied a Clemson record at the time. The Tigers trailed 20-16 with six minutes left. Clemson then scored on a safety when James Lott and a host of Tigers tackled James Jackson in the endzone. Clemson then drove for the winning field goal behind the running of Terry Allen to win the game. Allen led all ball carriers with 97 yards. Rodney Hampton scored a touchdown for the Dogs.

Today's game marks the last head to head meeting between Clemson and Georgia, one of the nation's most celebrated series in the last 20 years.

Tigers from Georgia

Of the 80 players who are on the Clemson roster, nine are from the state of Georgia. Only three of the players, Brett Williams (DE), Carlos Curry (MG) and Dwayne Morgan (OT) are starters. Seven of the 9 have played in every game this year. Georgia has always been a good state for the Tigers. In recent years, star players from Georgia who have played for the Tigers include Homer Jordan (Athens), John Johnson (LaGrange), Doug Brewster (Athens), Stacy Long (Griffin), Terry Allen (Commerce) and Chris Gardocki (Stone Mountain).

Here is a list of current Tigers from the state of Georgia:

Tennessee in week two when star running back Robert Edwards went down with an injury. Edwards had scored five touchdowns against South Carolina in the season opener and had 325 yards rushing in a game and a half before the injury.

Georgia's bad luck continued when starting quarterback Mike Bobo, currently 13th in the nation in passing efficiency, suffered a knee injury. Mississippi pulled off the upset, 18-10. Brian Smith, a native of Spartanburg, SC, is now the top quarterback for the Bulldogs. He is 27-56 for 279 yards and a touchdown.

Hines Ward is the all-purpose performer for the Bulldogs. He is the second leading receiver with 15-227, but he has also lined up at quarterback this year. Juan Daniels is the top receiver with 19-374 and three scores. Brice Hunter is also outstanding and is a nominee for the Biletnikoff Award, which is given to the nation's top receiver. Hunter saw his streak of 25 consecutive games with at least one reception end three weeks ago against New Mexico State.

Randall Godfrey is the top defender for Georgia. The Butkus Award candidate needs just 19 solo stops to set the Georgia record, now held by Ben Zambiasi (246 career tackles). His play is an important reason Georgia has won 16 straight non-conference games dating back to a 1990 loss to Georgia Tech. Georgia has scored at least 40 points in each of its last seven non-conference tilts.

Evans Ties Clemson Record

Clemson senior safety Leomont Evans posted what might be the greatest all-around performance in school history by a defensive back last Saturday. Terry Kinard and Donnell Woolford notwithstanding, Evans was truly remarkable at N.C. State in Clemson's 43-22 victory.

The native of Abbeville, SC had a Clemson record tying three interceptions and returned the thefts for 91 yards. He became just the second player in Clemson history to record three interceptions in a game. Kit Jackson did it on October 30, 1965 in a 26-13 win at Death Valley. Thus, Evans is the only one to do it in a road game. His 91 yards in interception returns is third best in Clemson history. Evans was an unlikely hero in terms of intercepting passes. He had recorded just one interception (vs. Virginia in 1993) in the first 30 games of his career.

In addition to his secondary coverage, he also had 11 tackles including nine first hits. For the year, Evans now has 38 tackles, second only to freshman Anthony Simmons. Evans has 31 first hits, which leads the entire team. "The interceptions were outstanding, but he made so many great one-on-one tackles," said Head Coach Tommy West. "I don't remember a defensive back having a greater all-around game for Clemson."

WILL YOUNG

by Brett Sowell

The Rock...
The Paw...
The Hill.

Those three tangible items are all a part of the Clemson football tradition and they all appear on the centennial logo this season. Tiger fans everywhere know that Clemson football has a lot more tradition than just those three things and for Will Young, his family's affiliation with Clemson football began before there was a paw, or the rock, or the hill, and even before Death Valley was built.

Will Young is a senior offensive guard in his third season as a starter on Tommy West's 1995 football team. When Young looks to the traditions of Clemson football, he begins in 1939.

In 1939 the Clemson Tigers finished the regular season 8-1 and Jess Neely's club was rewarded with the school's first ever bowl invitation. The Tigers defeated Boston College, 6-3, in the January 1st Cotton Bowl in 1940 and Ed McLendon, Young's grandfather, was a member of that team. McLendon, like his grandson, was a starter on the offensive line.

"I think it's a big thrill for me to play at Clemson like my grandfather, I have a lot of respect for him, he was a great man," said Young. "He wasn't the real reason I came here, I came here because I love Clemson. I am happy that people compare him with me because, he is such a great man. He coached high school football for forever, which is what I want to do as well. All his former players talk about him in good terms. I am thrilled to death to be put in the same sentence as Ed McLendon."

McLendon's career accomplishments would make any grandson proud. He coached Mullins High to a state title in 1954 before he moved on to coach at Winnsboro, where he later became principal. Young also won a state title as a player. McLendon was a coach in the Shrine Bowl and his grandson was selected to the Shrine Bowl team in 1991. McLendon passed away two years ago, but last year he was elected to the South Carolina Athletic Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

Young grew up in Clemson and knows about more Clemson traditions than just the ones that appear on the centennial logo. One that Young mentions is where kids come on to Frank Howard Field after football games. As the bells of Tillman Hall ring after a Clemson win, young Tiger fans try to get close to their Clemson football heroes. It is a tradition Young has seen from both sides, one as a fan, and the other as a player.

"My mom didn't like us to do it, but we did it anyway. As the last horn sounded we would jump the fence and try to get some sweatbands, like all the little kids do now, I think it is a good tradition. It helps little kids get closer to their heroes. When I did it I probably targeted William Perry because he was my hero. Today, I sometimes give away my gloves if they are real ripped up or I might give away my mouth piece if we win."

Growing up in Clemson, Young has been close to the university throughout his whole life. Today, he graces the cover of the game program, but less than 10 years ago he was out selling Clemson programs before Tiger football games.

"At 7:00 o'clock in the morning we would go pick up our box of programs and then go sell them. You don't get paid a whole lot, but it's a job that some of the local high school kids would do and it helps them get more affiliated with Clemson University. I guess it's unusual to be on the cover of a program instead of selling them."

Young looks back on his childhood in Clemson with a special fondness. "It's been great growing up in Clemson, there is always something to do whether it is Clemson football, basketball, or baseball. There is never really a dull time for a little kid. I grew up here and made a lot of friends. It's a great town, its not a big city, but it is big enough to have a good time."

Among the friends he made during his youth, is Clemson basketball player Bill Harder. Harder and Young attended Daniel and are close friends today. "Bill Harder and I talk a lot. Going to Clemson has been a dream for us both, I think Bill should have been here in the first place instead of going to Furman. He has always been the best basketball player I have ever seen, he use to kill us in the YMCA league when we were kids. Bill and I have been friends for a long time and I saw his picture on the new basketball schedule cards and I have been giving him a hard time about it. The bad thing is I'm sure he will give me a hard time about this program cover."

Young has seen Clemson as a city grow over the years, but he is cautious about too much growth. Young likes the college town atmosphere that Clemson maintained during his youth. "The city of Clemson has grown a lot in the last five years. Downtown is totally new, I think it looks a lot better. It hasn't expanded too much, we do have a few new restaurants

Young once sold programs at Clemson home games. Now he is on the cover.

1995 CLEMSON FOOTBALL

Young takes pride in Clemson football heritage. His grandfather, Ed McLendon was a member of Clemson's 1939 Cotton Bowl championship team. The Tigers uniforms this evening are replicas of that championship team.

on Highway 123, but I don't want it to get too much bigger. I think its perfect right now, its the perfect college town and if it gets too much bigger, it will be just another city."

Anyone who has ever spent anytime in Clemson should know of another Clemson tradition... Mac's Restuarant on Pendleton Road. Mac's has been a Clemson fixture since the 1950's and is famous for its delicious cheeseburgers, Clemson paraphanelia, and Tiger football discussions. Young and his linemates have made a tradition of their own, a weekly visit to Mac's.

"I'm a regular in Mac's, I go there all the time. He gives me a hard time because I pick on him because he doesn't like to make milkshakes. He will make one for my brother Kyle, he is about 250 pounds, but he is built better than I am, he's not chubby. Mac will say 'Make your own milkshake,' and then I'll ask him why he won't make me one? You're fat, Kyle's not. But I love Mac and Mac loves me.

"We take all the offensive linemen down there on Wednesday night's. I think it is a great place to be, there is a lot of tradition in there. Trevor Putnam (Clemson's center) eats four double cheeseburgers, I can't do that. We all go down there and see if he can finish all four of them."

Coming into the Georgia game he will have started 28 of the 31 games he has played in at Clemson. He was tabbed as a preseason second-team All-ACC selection by the 1995 Sporting News magazine. Last season, he was second on the team in number of plays with 713. He is the only three-year starter on the Tiger offense.

In the classroom Young also excels. He was a member of the 1993 and 1994 ACC Academic Honor Roll. He also was a member of Clemson's spring honor roll in 1995 with his 3.00 GPR.

Young shows emotion about his love and respect for his younger brother. Kyle is Young's little brother, even though he is not little. Kyle is a junior in high school, and like his brother, he is playing football at Daniel High School. He is the inspiration behind a lot of Will's play on the football field.

"My younger brother motivates me, I want him to be proud of his older brother. I am proud of him and I have a lot of respect for him. I figured the better I do, the more doors it might open for him. I know he's watching every move I make when I'm playing and that is what I do when I watch his games. I want him to be proud of me and I think he is. We are real close and I feel he is my biggest influence on working hard." The younger Young is a center and an inside linebacker at Daniel.

Family, is another word that is a part of the Clemson tradition. When talking to Young one begins to appreciate what the word family means to him. "My parents are the most stable thing in my life. They've been great parents to me and my brother and they have allowed us to accomplish the things that we have been able to accomplish. Whenever I am down, I always go see my mom and dad. They have always been there for me and they will always be there for me."

When he graduates from Clemson and his Tiger football career is over, Will Young will have many meaningful reflections. One will be like his grandfather, the fact that he helped Clemson win a bowl game. Another will be the friendships he has developed with his teammates.

"The 1993 Peach Bowl is one of my most rewarding experiences here, but I think the best experience I have had is playing with the four linemen I am playing with this year. We have become real close and we have developed friendships that are going to last a lifetime. Trevor, Glenn, Dwayne, and Jim are all close, we have worked hard together and we have gotten a lot further than people thought we would. When you go through times like we have gone through, you are going to build friendships that are going to last a long time."

As a career goal, Young, a secondary education major, would like to continue to follow in the footsteps of Ed McLendon. "I would like to coach either high school or college. Coaching football has been a longtime dream. I have thought about it longer than any other goal I have had. I enjoy working with people, especially on the football field. I think I can understand some of the tough times people go through on the football field, plus I can understand some of the good things that go on as well."

Few Clemson athletes have had a better understanding of the Tiger traditions than Will Young. He has enhanced those traditions with his work ethic and the positive way he represents Clemson. As he graces the cover of today's program and runs down the hill wearing his uniform, somewhere Ed McLendon is one proud grandfather.

O.K. Pressley

Clemson's first great player of national renown was a center. O.K. Pressley was a mainstay of Clemson's teams of the late 1920s. He led the 1928 team to a then school record eight wins and after the season he became Clemson's first All-American. He turned in perhaps the most legendary performance in Clemson history in his senior year against South Carolina. On the bench with a hand injury for the first period, he overcame the pain and made consecutive tackles for loss on four straight plays to change the momentum of the game and lead Clemson to victory.

1995 CLEMSON FOOTBALL

Off on the Right Foot

Clemson's first team practiced on October 5, 1896 and won its first game 23 days later with a 14-6 conquest of Furman. Charlie Gentry scored Clemson's first touchdown in history, a five-point play in those days. The Tigers went on to a 2-1 record that first year and in fact did not have a losing campaign in their first 12 seasons.

R. G. Hamilton
First Clemson Captain

Walter Riggs

Walter Riggs was the father of Clemson football. He coached the first football team, not only because he had football experience, but he was one of only two people on campus to have seen a game prior to 1896. In fact, all but one of Clemson's players had not seen a game before they played in the first game. Riggs went on to become the President of Clemson University, one of the few men in college sports history to go from football coach to President.

Tiger Timeline

by Sam Blackman

Sept. 30, 1896—A small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and discussed the advisability of organizing a football association and to devise some means of getting a coach. The organization known as the Clemson College Football Association was perfected and the following officers elected: President F.G. Tompkins, Secretary and Treasurer C.W. Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, and Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult professor Walter Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his help as coach.

October 5, 1896—Practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50x200 foot field in front of the college.

October 28, 1896—Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman, 14-6, at Greenville, SC. This was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full-sized football gridiron.

November 21, 1896—Clemson defeated Wofford by the score of 16-0. When the team arrived back on campus that night, the cadet corp along with faculty members, led the team around in a buggy led by a torchlight procession all over the campus. With this win, Clemson claimed the state championship.

November 10, 1897—Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time and won the school's second state championship. A total of 2,000 spectators witnessed the 18-6 victory. Clemson, took an early 4-0 lead when South Carolina's Lee Hagood fumbled on the Gamecock's 31-yard line and Clemson's W. T. Brock caught the fumbled ball in the air and raced 30 yards for a touchdown.

November 10, 1899—The football association stood on a very weak financial basis. The organization could not even afford to hire a coach. Walter Riggs agreed to coach the Tigers for free.

1995 CLEMSON FOOTBALL

The First Bowl Team

While Clemson had a perfect record (6-0) in 1900, it was the performance of the 1903 team that brought Clemson its greatest respect in the South in the early days of Tiger football. Clemson and Cumberland met for the "Championship of the South" in what amounts to Clemson's first post-season bowl game. John Maxwell, Clemson's first all-conference player, scored on a 100-yard kickoff return to provide the key play for Clemson in an 11-11 tie.

John Heisman

Heisman, the man they named the trophy after, coached at Clemson between 1900-03. His 19-3-2 record is still the best in Clemson history on a winning percentage basis. He invented the "Hidden Ball Trick", the double lateral, and the "flea flicker" play. In his four years as head coach he defeated South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, Auburn, Tennessee, Georgia Tech and N.C. State, among others.

Tiger Timeline

December 8, 1899—John Heisman was hired as head coach.

October 22, 1900—The Tigers defeated Wofford, 21-0. Actually, Clemson scored many more points, but a pre-game agreement between the teams stated that every point Clemson scored after the first four touchdowns would not count. (Maybe that would solve this running up the score controversy today.) No one could keep an accurate count after Clemson scored its first 21 points just six minutes into the game. All touchdowns Clemson made were called back and the ball given to Wofford deep in Clemson territory on such penalties as running over a Wofford tackler.

November 29, 1900—Clemson's 35-0 win over Alabama allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of the games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0.

October 5, 1901—Clemson opened the season with a 122-0 win over Guilford. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

October 18, 1902—Clemson 44, Georgia Tech 5— John Heisman said after the game, "We had already won a couple of games and word drifted to Clemson that Georgia Tech would spare nothing to beat us. When the train with the Clemson team, bag and baggage, arrived in Atlanta the day before the game, the Tech supporters made it a point to entertain our players royally. The Tech supporters marveled at the ease with which they were able to get our players to sneak out that night and participated in the wild parties around town. There was quite a lot of eating and drinking and the more the

Bowman Field

Bowman Field was the home of Clemson football from 1898 to 1914. Clemson's first two years and seven games were played on the road. The Tigers defeated Bingham in the first home game in history by a 55-0 score. The Tigers scored 11 touchdowns that day and W.C. Forsythe kicked 11 extra points, a record that still stands today. R.T.V. Bowman, an assistant coach for Clemson and the man for whom the field is named, helped referee the game that October 20th day. Clemson played 29 home games at Bowman Field, and posted a 19-8-2 record, a 69 percent winning record. The Tigers outscored their opposition 567-114 in those 29 games.

Two of the early stars for the Tigers who played on Bowman Field were Norman Walker and Claude Douthit (at left). Both were starters for three years for the Tigers, including the 1900 season when Clemson posted its first perfect season.

Tiger Timeline

Clemson men indulged in such pastime, the more the Tech men were willing to back with money their belief that they would win the next day." The Tech people lost a lot of money, as Clemson won 44-5. The Tech people were confounded at the hardiness of the Clemson men after a night of partying. They later discovered that Heisman had sent a group of Clemson students to Atlanta with equipment and had kept the varsity at Lula, Ga, a small town a few miles North of Atlanta, the night before the game. The varsity had a good night's rest and were ready to play the next day.

October 30, 1902—Col. Charles S.

Roller Jr., who was football coach of Furman, was the only referee for the Clemson-USC game. Bronco Armstrong, a famous Yale player and official, was to be the umpire but was in a railroad wreck on the way down and it was impossible for him to get to the game in time. Not a single penalty was called in the game. A riot between Clemson and USC fans broke out the night after the game. Officials at both colleges called off the football series between the two schools. Clemson and USC did not meet again in football until 1909.

November 27, 1902—Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown.

October 10, 1903—Clemson 29, Georgia 0—First 10 minutes of the game, Clemson fumbled the ball three times. After the game, the Georgia team made a deal with the Clemson team. They would give the Clemson team a bushel of apples for every point Clemson would defeat Tech above the score Clemson made against Georgia. The score turned out to be Clemson 73, Georgia Tech 0. Apples were plentiful around Clemson that winter—44 bushels.

The Clemson family has a new leader. President Constantine "Deno" Curris became the school's 13th president on May 22, 1995.

"More than any other university with which I have been familiar, there is a deep affection for this university and for its heritage," says Dr. Curris.

"That affection was an important quality that led me into the process when I was asked to be a candidate.

"I have become a believer in 'learning by osmosis,' gaining a sense of place by becoming a part.

"I am most eager to absorb the Clemson atmosphere by strolling the grounds, walking through offices, visiting classrooms."

One of Dr. Curris' hobbies is gardening, growing traditional vegetables, and he has spent his career helping universities grow and prosper as well.

Before arriving at the Clemson University campus, he was president of the University of Northern Iowa for 11 years. During his tenure, Northern Iowa was the only university in Iowa to experience enrollment growth. And, with one exception, the school's state appropriation also increased every year. The U.S. News and World Report cited UNI in 1993 as one of the best educational values among public universities. Its campus has also been ranked as the safest in the nation.

Curris assumed the Presidency of Northern Iowa in August, 1983. He became only the seventh chief executive in the school's history. At Northern Iowa, he led the school in raising admission standards and implementing a more rigorous comprehensive general education program. He expanded Northern Iowa's reputation as an institution for teacher education, gaining national recognition for programs in business, fine arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social and behavioral sciences.

He oversaw the development of international exchange programs and cutting-edge technological efforts such as centers for waste reduction, plastics technology, small business development, applied research in metal casting, and recycling and reuse technology transfer. Curris was also the driving force behind a $25 million private fund raising drive to build a performing arts center and fund endowed chairs and professorships.

Curris also directed the completion of extensive campus improvements and building renovations.

Dr. Curris' philosophy, supported by hard work, accounts for much of his success, the belief in constant improvement-gradual sometimes, but consistent.

"The real work of a university is building quality in incremental steps," he said. "Building the quality of the experience for students, both in education and career opportunities."

Prior to assuming the Northern Iowa presidency, Curris served 10 years as president of Murray State in Kentucky. The university's 130,000 square-foot student center is named the Curris Center in his honor.

Curris received a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude in political science from Kentucky in 1962; a master's degree in political science and public administration from Illinois in 1965, and his doctorate in higher education from Curris came to Clemson in May after a successful decade at Northern Iowa.

Tommy West, was named head coach of the Clemson Tigers on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl victory in the last eight years.

In his first full season, West guided the Tigers to a 5-6 record, and it was a season that showed week-by-week improvement. The '94 club, which featured the youngest Clemson offensive unit in 50 years, finished with a number-one ranking in turnover margin, a landmark ranking in Clemson football history. The Tigers were ranked as high as 21st in the USA Today poll, and finished the season with three wins in its last four outings, including a decisive conquest of #12 North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

West's defense ranked 14th in the nation against the run and 17th in scoring defense. The aggressive unit forced 29 turnovers and was one of the most reliable in the nation inside the redzone.

West also recruited one of the most impressive and productive freshman classes in Clemson history. Eighteen freshmen lettered in 1994, most for a Clemson rookie class since the 1940s. At times, the Tigers started seven freshmen on offense, including five first-year freshmen at the "skill positions." Last winter, he and his staff recruited a top 20 class according to most recruiting services.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89.

During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1994.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers),

Wayne Simmons (Green Bay Packers) and John Johnson (Cincinnati Bengals) were starters in 1994 in the NFL, and Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings) was a top reserve. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

With his debut in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons.

He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yd. pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, now with the Oakland A's, was West's teammate on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a fifth-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 7.

The West family: Tommy, wife Lindsay and son Turner.

1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl winning over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the

Assistant Head Coach/Tackles and Tight Ends

The Clemson football program has seen a lot of success during Les Herrin's tenure as an assistant coach. In 1981, Herrin arrived at Clemson as a linebacker coach, and the Tigers won the National Championship that season. In his first tour of duty with the Tigers (1981-84) Clemson had a 37-6-2 record.

After a brief stint away from Clemson at East Carolina (1985-87) and North Carolina (1988), Herrin returned to the Tiger program in 1989 as defensive line coach. In 1989 Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in scoring, rushing, and total defense. The team followed that performance with a number-one ranking in total defense in 1990, as well as second in scoring and rushing defense.

Herrin has coached several players who have had successful NFL careers. He coached 1981 ACC MVP Jeff Davis, who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and enters the Clemson Ring of Honor this year. He also tutored 1989 All-Pro Johnny Remy (New England Patriots), who was a linebacker under Herrin's watchful eye in 1981 and 1982. Chester McGlockton, a Pro Bowl defensive lineman with the Los Angeles Raiders last year, and Pittsburgh Steelers 1994 rookie Brentson Buckner, also benefitted from Herrin's teaching.

Miles Aldridge

Co-Defensive Coordinator/ Outside Linebackers

Now in his second stint at Clemson, Miles Aldridge has been affiliated with five Clemson defenses that have ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring and rushing defense. He first came to Clemson in 1985 as an inside linebacker coach. From 1986 thru 1989 the Tigers were ranked in the top 20 in all defensive categories, including a number-five rating in 1989. His second tour of duty at Clemson began last year and the Tigers ranked 17th in the nation in scoring defense and 14th in rushing defense.

Clemson won three consecutive ACC titles during Aldridge's first stay at Clemson, 1986-87-88 and was ranked in the final AP top 20 in 1986-87-88-89. In his years at Clemson the Tigers have won five bowl games, including victories over Penn State and Oklahoma in consecutive Citrus Bowl games in the late 1980s.

Aldridge has coached several players who have gone on to have successful pro careers. Three linebackers have gone on to the NFL, Andre Townsend (Mississippi), Freddie Joe Dunn (Mississippi), and Ed McDaniel. McDaniel is currently a starter for the Minnesota Vikings.

The 1971 graduate of Gardner-Webb will coach the outside linebackers this year and serve as co-defensive coordinator.

Ellis Johnson

Ellis Johnson

Co-Defensive Coordinator/Defensive Line

Ellis Johnson is in his first season as a co-defensive coordinator, his first season as defensive line coach, but his second year on the Clemson staff. As outside linebacker coach last year he was a significant reason Clemson ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring defense and held three ACC teams, including Florida State, to their season low in terms of scoring.

Johnson is in just his second year at Clemson, but is no stranger to the area. He attended The Citadel, but he grew up a Clemson fan. He has coached in the state at The Citadel as a graduate assistant, at Gaffney High as an assistant coach and at Spartanburg High as an assistant coach and head coach. His most successful stint in coaching so far took place in Alabama. In 1992 Johnson served an assistant coach at Alabama. The Crimson Tide experienced a perfect season and defeated Miami (FL) in the Sugar Bowl to win the National Championship. He is one of two Tiger assistant coaches on this year's staff with a National Championship ring. Les Herrin, a member of Clemson's 1981 staff, is the other.

Johnson was a part of four outstanding defenses at Alabama. During his tenure (1990-93), Alabama ranked in the top five in the nation in total defense and pass defense three times. The 1992 Alabama defense led the nation in total defense and rushing defense and ranked second nationally in passing defense and scoring defense.

Clyde Christensen

Clyde Christensen

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

An All-American quarterback in junior college, Clyde Christensen came to Clemson after two years at Maryland. He knows the ACC well as he also played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

At Maryland he coached quarterbacks John Kaleo and Scott Milanovich. Kaleo ranked second in the nation in total offense as a senior, while Milanovich ranked fourth nationally in that category in 1993. Last year the Clemson team ranked first in the nation in turnover margin and committed just 12 turnovers all season.

Christensen's offense at Maryland was explosive, as the Terps ranked fourth in the country in 1992 with an average of 466 yards per game, and 16th in 1993 when they averaged 440 yards per game. The Terps also ranked second in the country in passing offense in 1992 and third in passing offense in 1993.

While Christensen is in just his second year as a coach at Clemson, he has known Clemson head coach Tommy West for over 15 years. The two were graduate assistant coaches together at Mississippi in 1979. He is only 37-years-old, but already has college experience at Mississippi, East Tennessee State, Temple, East Carolina, Holy Cross, South Carolina and Maryland.

Christensen was a part of two successful teams at North Carolina, as the Tar Heels played in the 1977 Liberty Bowl and the 1978 Peach Bowl during his career.

Personal Data: Born January 28, 1958 in Corvina, CA...he and his wife Debbie have three children, Ruth (4), Rebecca (9), and Rachel (11).

Rick Stockstill

Rick Stockstill

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill has been around successful programs and record setting offenses his entire coaching career. In his first year as quarterback coach at Clemson (1989), the Tigers set a school record for completion percentage (60%). The Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense for the 1991 season, and Clemson gained the second most yards in school history in the process.

Stockstill also tutored productive offenses at Central Florida and Bethune-Cookman in his early years as a football coach. As a player, he was the starting quarterback for Florida State. He guided the Seminoles to a pair of Orange Bowl appearances, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

It is no surprise that Stockstill has moved up the coaching ladder so swiftly because he is the product of an athletic family. His father has been head coach at Fernandina Beach High School in Florida for many years. His brother, Jeff, was a starting wide receiver for the Tigers in 1982, a reserve on the National Championship team of 1981.

Stockstill is in his seventh year with the Clemson program and the Tigers have been to bowl games in four of the six previous seasons. He joins Les Herrin and Whitey Jordan as the only assistant coaches in Clemson history to serve under three different head coaches.

The Rick Stockstill File

At Clemson: In his second season as co-offensive coordinator and is in his seventh season with the Tigers.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Bethune-Cookman College (1983-84); assistant head coach and wide receiver coach at the University of Central Florida (1985-88); quarterback coach at Clemson (1989-1993); passing game coordinator at Clemson (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator and wide receiver coach (Dec. 1993-present).

College Playing Experience: Earned three letters in football from Florida State. Captain of 1981 Florida State team.

Personal Data: Born December 23, 1959...he and his wife Sarah were married on July 7, 1990, and had their first child, Brent Forrest, in August, 1994.

Richard Bisaccia

Richard Bisaccia

Running Backs/Special Teams/Recruiting Coordinator

Richard Bisaccia is a stickler for detail and one of the details he works on in practice with his players every day is holding on to the football. He taught this aspect better than any assistant coach in the country last year because the Tigers lost just two fumbles, fewest in the nation and an all-time Clemson record.

Bisaccia, a Yonkers, NY native, learned how to hold onto the football as a four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College. He was a free agent with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL after his college career.

While the 1983 Spring season saw the end of his playing career, the 1983 fall was the beginning of his coaching career. He was named the offensive coordinator at Wayne State in Nebraska his first year out of college and he has been in college coaching ever since.

Unlike many Division I full-time assistant coaches, Bisaccia did not make a lot of moves. He spent five seasons at Wayne State, then six seasons at South Carolina. He has experience coaching on defense and offense, but will concentrate on the running backs position at Clemson.

In addition to Bisaccia's changes on the gridiron the last year, he had a family addition. In August of 1994 his wife Jeanne gave birth to their first son, Richard Oakley, and fourth child.

The Richard Bisaccia File

At Clemson: In his second season as the Tigers' running backs coach and special teams coach.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) (1983-87); graduate assistant for wide receivers at South Carolina (1988); volunteer assistant for defensive ends at South Carolina (1989-90); tight ends coach at South Carolina (1991); running backs and special teams coach at South Carolina (1992-93); running backs and special teams coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT; Earned a degree in health and physical education from Yankton College (1983).

College Playing Experience: Four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College (1980-83).

Personal Data: Born June 3, 1960...he and his wife Jeanne have four children: daughters, Michele (11), Elizabeth (6), and Madeline (2) and son Richard Oakley (1).

Charlie Harbison

Charlie Harbison

Defensive Backs

First-year Clemson coach Charlie Harbison has more experience at the professional level than any other current Tiger mentor. Harbison was a starter at strong safety with the New Orleans and Boston Breakers of the USFL in 1983-84 and also signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills in 1982, 1985 and 1986.

Harbison also coached on the pro level with the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks of the World League of American Football, with the Charlotte Barons of the MLFS and with the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League. He has coached wide receivers, linebackers and defensive backs in his career, but has by far his most experience as a secondary coach.

He will be Clemson's defensive backs coach in 1995, his second consecutive year as a Division I secondary coach.

In 1994 he coached the secondary at UTEP. This season he will have the opportunity to enhance the careers of a veteran secondary led by preseason All-American Brian Dawkins.

In addition to his Division I experience, Harbison also has had significant success at the NAIA level. His Gardner Webb team of 1992 had a 12-2 record and played in the NAIA Championship game.

The Charlie Harbison File

At Clemson: In his first year as secondary coach.

Previous Coaching Experience: College—Defensive back coach at Gardner-Webb (1984); wide receiver coach at Gardner-Webb (1992-93); defensive back coach at UTEP (1994); defensive back coach at Clemson (1995); Professional—linebacker coach for Charlotte Barons (1990); defensive back/special teams coach for the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks (1991); defensive back coach for Carolina Cougars (1992); defensive back/wide receiver coach for Charlotte Rage (1993-94).

Playing Experience: Professional—Boston Breakers (1983), New Orleans Breakers (1984), Buffalo Bills (preseason 1982, 1985-86). College: 3-year letter winner at Gardner-Webb 1979-81.

Personal Data: Born October 27, 1959. He and his wife, Dana, have two sons, Charlie and Stedman.

Reggie Herring

Reggie Herring

Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring is another example of an outstanding former player who has gone on to become an outstanding coach. A teammate of Rick Stockstill at Florida State, Herring left his own mark with the Seminole program as a player.

Herring was captain of the 1980 Orange Bowl team and earned AP All-America honors in 1980. The Seminoles played in the Orange Bowl and ranked in the top 10 in the nation his junior and senior seasons, and he was recently inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame. He was a three-year starter at Florida State and the Seminoles played in three bowls during his four year career.

Florida State also had three double-figure victory seasons during his career. Like many of Clemson's assistant coaches in 1995, Herring has a diverse experience. He has been a part of successful programs at Oklahoma State, Auburn, TCU and now Clemson. He was defensive coordinator at TCU prior to coming to Clemson.

Herring has not made plans over the Christmas holidays for quite some time. He has been a part of college football as a player and coach since 1977. In those 18 seasons he has been to 13 bowl games, 10 as a coach and three as a player.

The Reggie Herring File

At Clemson: In his second season as inside linebackers coach.

College Playing Experience: Three-year starter at linebacker for Florida State.

Personal Data: Born on July 3, 1959...married the former Lisa Ward, and they have two children, Caroline and Adam.

John Latina

John Latina

Centers and Guards

John Latina has been an offensive coach for a Division I program every year since 1979. He had quite a task last year in that he coached Clemson's entire offensive line. This year he will handle the centers and guards, a change that should allow him to spend more time with fewer players.

Latina showed his expertise as a teacher last year as Clemson's youngest offensive line in 20 years improved over the course of the season, leading to victories in three of the last four games.

The Virginia Tech graduate, who once played against Clemson as an offensive guard (1978), has worked at Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Temple and Kansas State. He has already coached in a bowl game with four different schools, Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Kansas State and Clemson.

During his career he has worked with Dan Marino, who led the Panthers to a 9-3 ledger and the Cotton Bowl in 1982. Paul Palmer, one of the top rushers in NCAA history with Temple, was also a member of Latina's offense in the 1980s.

Over the five years he was with the program, Kansas State's team in general and offense in particular, showed as much improvement as any in the country. In Latina's second season at Kansas State as offensive line coach and running game coordinator, the Wildcats set a school record for total offense with 4,231 yards. Kansas State advanced to a bowl game in 1992, just the second bowl appearance in school history.

1939 REVISITED

by Bob Bradley

After 56 years, the 1939 Clemson football team is still recording firsts.

The dotting of the 'i' as the Clemson Band spells out Tigers on the field is usually reserved for a single person or a couple. But today a record number will converge on the 'undotted i' and be recognized.

These are members of that '39 team that played and defeated Boston College, 6-3, in Dallas' 1940 Cotton Bowl. Some 25 or so are still living. But, three members of the team passed away during the past year, including captain Joe Payne, who died two weeks ago today. The other two were Norwood McElveen and George Floyd. Floyd scored a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage in 1940 in Coach Frank Howard's first game as head coach.

The 1939 season was truly remarkable and it is fitting that this group is being honored at today's Centennial Celebration kickoff because so much of the history and heritage of Clemson football documents 1939 as a cornerstone season. Not only was it Clemson's first bowl team, and first conference champion, it was Clemson's first team to be ranked and the first to end a season in the national top 20 (12th in the final AP poll).

Clemson opened the year with its annual victory over Presbyterian, then suffered its only loss, a 7-6 squeaker, to Tulane in New Orleans. The Tigers would win their next seven (only nine regular season games were played back then), and would accept their first bowl bid.

Oddly enough that only loss to the Green Wave saw Banks McFadden first rise to national prominence. Many observers say that is where McFadden made the All-America team on his punting exhibition, especially on his quick-kicks from the single-wing tailback position. He averaged over 43 yards a kick in 12 punts that afternoon and had six punts of at least 50 yards, still a single game record today.

Starting out with a 1-1 record after two games, few would even hazard a guess that Clemson would play in its first bowl game at the end of the season. Few also figured that Coach Jess Neely would move on to Rice, at the end of the season, the school he would remain for the next 27 years.

It was always a rock in Neely's craw for anyone to refer to his first seven seasons as "Neely's Seven Lean Years," because in his final six, Neely had non-losing teams. It might seem ironic that Neely's first winning season, 1934, was the year that IPTAY was founded. Neely had asked for $10,000 from IPTAY to boost the program.

But Neely fought adversity with slow and well thought-out solutions. How many coaches today could win 36 games in six seasons with only 14 out of 56 games played at home? Only once did Clemson play as many as four games at home during Neely's stay and only twice were there three home games in a year. Thirteen of the 56 games were played on neutral sites.

Even this '39 team only played two games at home, opening the season with an 18-0 win over Presbyterian, and then in the seventh game, downing Wake Forest 20-7.

With the exception of the Tulane loss, the Tigers were only behind twice during the entire season, and there was one tie, although it didn't last long.

Players went both ways, and only gave up 45 points in the 10 games, counting the Cotton Bowl.

In the third game, the Tigers defeated N.C. State, 25-6, in Charlotte with the Pack's lone score coming in the final period. Clemson played Navy at Annapolis, then went back to the nation's capitol the next Saturday and downed George Washington, 13-6.

The second and final home game against the Deacons drew 12,000 people. It must have been quite a show. "Scoop" Latimer, late sports editor of The Greenville News, wrote as his lead:

"Ole Roman chariot races, the Kentucky Derby, the Indianapolis Speedway and other epics of speed were feeble gestures for producing thrills compared with the football circus Coach Jess Neely's Clemson Tigers staged to defeat the Wake Forest Demon

Charlie Timmons carries the ball against Boston College. He was Clemson's top rusher in the Tigers first bowl win.

"Neely's Greater Combined Shows, exhibiting magicians, dazzling serialists, spectacular jugglers, flying phantoms and a wild animal act of highly trained Tigers, kept the throng spell-bound through the tensity of one of the great gridiron performances of all time. These superb feats of magic, skill, speed and power all entered into this presentation of football at its best—a truly colossal production."

Clemson scored two touchdowns and Wake Forest one in a span of about 10 minutes in the second quarter as Tiger-Deacon-Tiger scored. Clemson added another score in the final stanza. Latimer said: "The nerve-racked fans, slow to leave the field, had seen the Tigers triumphant in one of the greatest shows the gridiron could possibly offer." At one time in his story, Latimer said the Tigers gave the customers $50 worth of thrills for each $2 ticket.

Clemson went to Memphis and took care of Southwestern, 21-6, which is what the halftime score was, and then found itself behind 3-0 at halftime against Furman in Greenville, only to come back with a touchdown in each of the final two periods to win, 14-3. The Tigers also found themselves behind 3-0 against Boston College in the Cotton Bowl before Charlie Timmons scored a touchdown for a 6-3 halftime lead and the same final score.

There were many stars on this team. McFadden and Joe Blalock were both All-Americans and joined George Fritts and McFadden was an All-American on Clemson's 1939 team.

Shad Bryant on the All-Southern Conference team. That quartet, along with Walter Cox and Bob "Red" Sharpe were members of the all-state squad. Payne, Tom Mooror and Carl Black were the only three to start all 10 games.

These, for the most part, were the headline grabbers. But the likes of Bill Hall, Timmons, Hugh Jameson, Charlie Tisdale, Hugh Webb, Wister Jackson, Chippy Maness, Frank Deitz, Bru Trexler, Roy Pearce, Jim Blessing, Jim Pasley, Wade Padgett, Floyd, Aubrey Rion, McElveen...and the list goes on. None of these guys were offensive or defensive specialists. They were 'two-way iron men' who had to give as well as take.

They suddenly found themselves—a group of players from small town environments, playing big time football. Neely rewarded the team for its efforts by taking all 51 players to Dallas for the game. The trip was made by train.

While in Dallas for the bowl game, talk was rampant that Neely would leave Clemson for the head coaching job at Rice. Bill Sullivan was the publicity man for Frank Leahy and Boston College, and he related to me several years ago that he was in the hotel room in Dallas when Neely told a small group that he would definitely take the Rice offer.

Frank Howard, who was Neely's line coach, spoke up and said: "Well, I'm not going with you." And according to Sullivan, Neely said: "I hadn't planned to ask you."

When we confronted Howard with this, he denied it and said that J.C. Littlejohn, Clemson business manager, had promised him the Clemson head coaching job if Neely left. Sullivan, incidentally, is the same Sullivan who, up until several years ago owned the New England Patriots and Sullivan Stadium at Foxboro, MA.

But for that 1939 team that played in Clemson's first bowl game nearly 56 years ago, today's reunion will be one where every down of that season could probably be replayed without a miss. The players, in their minds, will be better today than they were then, tackles will be harder, runs will be longer, pass receptions will be more spectacular and punt and kickoff returns will be more dashing.

In all probability, the truth will and should be stretched somewhat. So what! That's what memories are for, they are there to be recalled good, bad and otherwise.

This 1939 team being honored and recognized today did something no other team will ever match...it played in and won the school's first postseason bowl game. Eighteen other teams have followed suit, but being the first in anything is always something special.

Members of the 1939 team ran down the hill and rubbed the rock at a reunion two years ago. It was a tradition none of them had done as a player.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

The legend of Death Valley continues in 1995 as 16 football games will be played on its surface. Clemson will play its normal six regular season contests, while the Carolina Panthers will play in the facility 10 times, two preseason contests and eight regular season games.

What does the NFL's presence mean in 1995? If the stadium is good enough for the Carolina Panthers, it must be quite a facility. In fact, minimal changes have been made to make it ready for the Panthers and the National Football League.

This outstanding stadium that has kept pace with the changing world of college football has seen the Tigers run up a 53-year record of 184-67-7, including a 26-5-1 ledger over the last five seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 73.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need'.

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger Football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the first day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 81,473 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. Teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

Clemson has ranked in the Top 15 in the nation in attendance for 13 straight years.

VICKERY HALL

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 18 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and is the first facility in the nation originally constructed for the purposes of meeting the comprehensive needs of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000-square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes, and consolidates a variety of academic services for their use.

The Vickery Hall facility and staff ranks among the best in the nation and joined Boston College as the only two programs of its kind to become certified in 1995.

The philosophy behind Vickery Hall is to provide the Clemson student-athlete with a program that will meet his or her needs academically, in personal growth and development, and with career assistance. Vickery Hall is tangible evidence that, at Clemson, the athletic department has made a commitment to make the student-athlete's total experience a rewarding one, even after he or she enters the professional world.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about the institutional commitment - giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Vickery Hall is located in the mainstream of east campus, behind Jordan Hall at the top of Bryan Mall. The main entrance to the building is a 1,570-square foot reception/office area, comprised of five advisers' offices, two graduate student offices, and a conference room. Also located on the bottom floor is the office of Bill D'Andrea, the director of Clemson's student-athlete enrichment program.

Vickery Hall operates under the guidelines and policies of the university and the center's staff adheres strictly to the rules and ethical conduct standards of the university. In addition to the director, the staff also consists of six full-time advisers, two graduate assistants, and 50 tutors.

The building also boasts a 175-seat auditorium to be used for classes, team meetings, review sessions, and seminars. The various speakers and lecturers who come to work with Clemson student-athletes as part of the student-enrichment program also use this facility.

Another area of the main floor, the computer resources area, consists of a general computer tutoring room and a computer science tutoring room. The computer room contains 30 personal computers for hands-on computer tutoring, word processing and other general uses.

The 13,000-square-foot study and tutoring area on the second floor comprises the majority of the center. This area contains 28 tutorial rooms, including a large 65-seat study room and nine 20-seat study rooms, which are designed as classrooms with freestanding desks. There are 10 classrooms located on the first floor.

The facility has paid dividends. In the spring semester of 1995, Clemson student-athletes recorded a 2.55 GPA, highest on record. Eighty-three student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 1994-95, an all-time record. Records were also eclipsed in terms of dean's list athletes. It is also a reason a record four Tiger football players are graduate students in 1995.

The facilities at Vickery Hall helped Warren Forney earn his undergrad degree in 3 1/2 years.

Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program

The Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program is one of the most important programs provided by the staff of Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athlete.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, former Tiger gridder James Earle is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with a job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Long Term Career Assistance Program, also coordinated by Earle, will be coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and will focus on resume writing and interview techniques so that each student-athlete will be competitive and aggressive when dealing with companies who visit the Clemson campus.

Personal Growth Program

Another aspect of Clemson University's commitment to help student-athletes reach their potential in all areas of their life - academically, athletically, and socially, is the personal growth program. This program is one of the many purposes of Vickery Hall. This particular area of student development is designed to enhance and support the lives of student-athletes during their enrollment in college as well as in their life experiences after graduation.

Ginty Porter, the Development Coordinator, and Vickery Hall staff realize that student-athletes have more obligations than a regular college student. The personal growth program seeks to eliminate some of the stresses of adjustment to the higher level of academics and athletics. It is the groups special task to assist the student-athlete by creating a finely tuned balance of all areas to ensure success in obtaining a Clemson University degree, by supporting successful athletic practice and competition, enhancing personal growth, and helping with the transition to life after college.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

The appointed hour has finally arrived. At 6:39 PM this evening, Death Valley will explode with excitement. Tonight's game kicks off Clemson's "Centennial Celebration of football" which runs through the Homecoming Game of 1996. As this chapter in Clemson history begins, another closes. When the Tigers run down the hill tonight before a packed house in Death Valley to face the Georgia Bulldogs, it will be the last matchup between the two schools.

The history of Clemson football began on September 30, 1896 as a small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms to discuss organizing a football association. The organization known as the Clemson College Football Association was perfected and the following officers were elected: President F.G. Tompkins, secretary and Treasurer C.W. Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, Temporary Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult Professor Walter Riggs concerning management of a football team and to ask his aid as head coach.

Riggs could easily be considered the father of Clemson football. He coached the first football team at Clemson not only because he had football experience, but he was one of only two people on the Clemson campus to have seen a football game when the sport started in 1896. The other person was Frank Thompkins who played in the backfield on the first team.

On October 5, 1896, practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50x200 foot field in front of the college presently known as Bowman Field. Later that month on October 28, 1896, Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman, 14-6, at Greenville, SC. This was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full sized football gridiron. The next year, when the program had only been in existence one year, Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time to capture the school's first state championship.

Now a century later, Clemson celebrates "A Rock-Solid Tradition" of football. Numerous activities commemorate this special event.

Tonight's 6:39 PM kickoff was chosen to honor the '39 Clemson team and because Clemson football began in 1896. The 1939 team, led by Banks McFadden, defeated Boston College in the Cotton Bowl, Clemson's first bowl game ever, and finished with a #12 national ranking, Clemson's first top 20 season in history. The 1939 football team has the honor of dotting the "i" in the script Tigers formed by Tiger Band during pregame festivities.

Clemson has played just 15 home night games in its history, so playing this Centennial Kickoff at night adds to this occasion. "We had a very positive reaction from our fans when we played Florida State at night in 1992," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson of the contest that was Clemson's first home night game in 36 years. "With the Georgia game serving as the kickoff of our Centennial Celebration, we thought playing the game at night would provide a special atmosphere."

There have been special events on campus

all week. Beginning last Monday, Bowman field was lined like a football field and was emblazoned with the Centennial logo. Bowman Field served as the home of the Tigers between 1898 and 1914. Turn to the Centennial Scrapbook in this program to view a photo of a game on Bowman Field.

On Thursday, 12,000 Centennial Celebration t-shirts were given to Clemson students at the campus dining halls and they have been wearing those shirts all week.

Tuesday the "Turn Back the Clock" uniforms were unveiled during Coach West's weekly press conference. The idea for the "Turn Back the Clock" uniforms came into existence over three years ago by former Associate Athletic Director for Public Affairs Len Gough and Assistant Athletic Director for Sports Promotions John Seketa.

Tonight fans will enter the gates of Memorial Stadium with a ticket featuring the Centennial logo. At the gates of the stadium, fans will be given pom poms (60,000 total) compliments of Belk. Don't forget to purchase the new Centennial Celebration apparel available in the concourse level of the stadium. Stadium cups also feature the Centennial logo and special Centennial game programs are on sale.

Flying high on the flagpole at the entrance of the IPTAY and Ticket Offices is a Clemson Centennial flag. Banners hang from the stadium facade and flags decorate the concourse levels, while the east scoreboard features the Centennial logo. Throughout the game, the skies of Clemson will be filled with magnificent fireworks in honor of 100 years of Tiger football. Fireworks will be on display after each Clemson touchdown.

During the remainder of the fall, fans will be able to vote for the all-time Clemson team. Two teams will be chosen, one for the one-platoon era, when players went both ways, and one for the two-platoon era. This should give the 35-man team a true representation of the entire 100 years of Clemson football. The ballots are sponsored by Bilo and Coke and will be available through the Orange & White and Bilo stores after November 1. They will also be distributed at the Clemson-North Carolina game on Nov. 4.

The all-time Clemson team will be honored at the 1996 Spring Game. A commemorative poster with all 35 players represented, will also be on sale next year.

When the Centennial Celebration concludes, Tiger fans should not look at it as the end of the celebration, but only the beginning of another 100 successful years of Clemson Tiger football.

Fireworks at tonight's game are just one of the many special plans for Clemson's centennial celebration.

UNIFORM HISTORY

By Sam Blackman

Pride, character, and spirit—these intangibles are often laced, taped, or attached to an athlete when he represents a school in his uniform. A team's uniform sometimes excites fans and motivates players at a big game.

Tonight, Clemson is wearing uniforms resembling those worn in the late 1930s (see program cover). Dark navy blue pants, orange jerseys and a navy blue helmet with orange stripes describe tonight's outfit for the tilt with Georgia. The Tigers are the first team in college football history to wear "Throwback" uniforms.

With the Centennial Celebration of Clemson football kicking off tonight it is only appropriate the Tigers will be wearing a uniform similar to the 1939 team, one of the most outstanding teams in the history of Clemson athletics. This collection of Clemson students single-handily put Tiger football on the map of great football programs and it also launched the career of the renowned Frank Howard the following season. This 1939 team won the 1940 Cotton Bowl game over favored Boston College 6-3 and finished the season 9-1.

The uniform and the mascot are valuable symbols of a team. Sometimes the color and the mascot can have a psychological edge when playing an opponent. It is only appropriate that Clemson has the nickname of Tigers as it has been known for ferocious play and fighting to the bitter end against insurmountable odds.

Clemson's Tiger mascot is derived from the early football team that wore orange and purple stripes. In the early period of Clemson football, the players wore equipment that provided little or no protection. In pictures from that era, players wore a covering over their nose and face and wore padded pants. The players grew their hair long since this would add extra protection for the head. An early account stated the Clemson team should have been called lions because many of the players had long hair.

But the nickname Tigers was brought about since the early team wore orange and purple stripes, on their shirts and socks. In 1899, the team photo shows nose and shin guards, padded trousers and elbows, laced leather jackets, striped jerseys and stockings.

In 1915, Clemson outplayed the VMI cadets statistically, but lost the most important numbers—the score, as VMI defeated the Tigers, 6-3. A Richmond Times Dispatch reporter became curious enough to find out why the Tigers had lost.

This was probably the first time Clemson had put numbers on jerseys to identify players for spectator convenience and the writer decided these numbers had an influence on the outcome. The Clemson players had numbers on their jerseys that included number-13, while VMI did not include the number-13. The reporter reasoned the Tigers were thus an unlucky team.

Clemson began the 1928 season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time with black composition cloth stripes on the front with purple numbers.

The black stripes on the front were popular during that day. This was to confuse the defense so they could not see who had the ball. A local team in South Carolina even had a spiral design on their jersey to make the opposition dizzy.

In team pictures during the time of 1930-1950s Clemson used dark pants and dark jerseys, sometimes orange tops, and sometimes white tops with orange numerals.

In 1958, Clemson accepted a Sugar Bowl bid to face the number-one team in the nation, LSU. NBC Sports was concerned that the nationwide audience could not tell the two teams apart on the black and white television since LSU was going to wear white and Clemson was going to wear orange. On December 27, 1958, Clemson announced it would wear navy blue jerseys with wide numerals on the front and back. Orange helmets with a white strip from back to front in the center would also be worn to give a contrasting color for the television audience. These blue jerseys were referred to as the "Sugar Bowl Blues". On January 1, 1959 heavily favored LSU defeated Clemson 7-0 to win the National Championship.

The "Sugar Bowl Blues" must have had some magical powers. On November 24, 1962, Clemson defeated South Carolina as Rodney Rogers kicked a 24-yard field goal with 1:31 left. The Tigers wore the same Sugar Bowl Blues "left over from the 1959

Clemson's 1910 team had multiple stripes in its uniform to make them look like Tigers.

Sugar Bowl game.

On October 8, 1960 Clemson defeated Virginia 21-7 and used special pants for rain protection in this game. The pants were designed to help keep the athlete dry and make it hard for a defender to grasp a running back's legs. After the contest, Clemson sent the pants to Greenville and allowed Furman to use them for a game that night against William and Mary. Furman Head Coach Bob King said, "After those big Clemson boys got out of them, some of our guys had a hard time making them stay up and we had to tape the legs of the pants for several players." The pants beat two teams from Virginia on the same day.

In the 1960s, Clemson helmets displayed an elongated block C on the side. The Tigers wore orange tops and white pants at home and all white with orange trim on the road.

On November 18, 1967, Clemson painted its shoes orange for the N.C. State game and the Tigers upset the 10th-ranked Wolfpack, 14-6. Clemson at least clinched a tie for the ACC Championship that day. The Tigers had to get the orange paint from eight stores in the area. N.C. State's defense had gained national exposure for wearing white shoes all season and that was the reason for the play.

On July 21, 1970, Clemson announced the use of a new logo—THE TIGER PAW. With the aid of Henderson Advertising Agency, The Tiger paw became the new trademark of Clemson athletics and it has been omnipresent on Clemson's football uniform ever since...until tonight. Of course the Tiger Paw was not around in 1939, so it will not be present on tonight's uniform.

In the mid 1970s former Clemson

Clemson first wore orange pants in 1980, and has a 28-6 record in orange pants overall. Among the victories is a triumph over defending national champion Georgia in 1981.

Promotion Director Jerry Arp and IPTAY Executive Secretary George Bennett started the "wear orange" campaign that is still alive today. This was to encourage Tiger fans to wear orange at athletic events to show that Clemson indeed has a 12th man in the stands.

From the pages of the psychology book, an inspired Clemson team wore orange pants for the first time and beat favored South Carolina on November 22, 1980. That might have been the most involved uniform play in Clemson history. The pants were not ordered until the November 3 prior to the game and they were kept a secret until the team appeared at the top of the hill. Only captains Willie Underwood and Jeff Davis were aware of the pants prior to the morning of the game.

Clemson warmed up in their usual white pants, then changed into the orange pants prior to boarding the buses to ride to the hill. "When they were putting on the pants in the locker room there was a constant buzz," recalled Clemson Head Coach Danny Ford. "The players were beside themselves. I always made orange a special color in practice, especially for scrimmages in the fall and spring. The unit (offense or defense) that was doing the best got to wear the orange. It was a prestige thing so orange already had a special meaning to them.

Clemson held the secret even during the coin toss. An injured player, Eddie Geathers, went out for the coin toss in his jersey and blue jeans. The buses were backed up to the recruiting room door, where the players exited, thus very few fans saw the pants when the team got on the buses.

Perhaps the funniest incident occurred about an hour before gametime. Former equipment manager Len Gough, who orchestrated the secret recalls, "One of the managers brought in Paul Coakley (a friend of Gough's) prior to the game. I felt bad for him, but we had to keep him in the locker room until we left for the last time. His eyes grew twice their size when he saw the orange pants and we just didn't want to risk anyone finding out our surprise. So, he stayed in the interview room for an hour."

All the intricate preparations must have been worth it as Clemson upset the 14th-ranked and bowl bound Gamecocks and Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers by a 27-6 score. The special pants have remained a good luck charm for the Tigers over the years, as they are now 28-6 when wearing these special orange pants. The Tigers are 19-3 in orange pants involving games played at Death Valley.

Clemson wore a purple jersey on October 26, 1991 the first time since the 1930s in a victory over 10th-ranked N.C. State. Coach Ken Hatfield wanted something special for the heavily favored Wolfpack and the play worked in Clemson's 29-19 win. The win sent the Tigers to a 9-1-1 regular season and a berth in the Citrus Bowl.

While Clemson's uniform tonight is of no surprise, the entire event adds to the color and pageantry of color football, an aspect of the college sport that sets it apart from any other.

The Tigers wore broad stripes and an all white uniform in the 1950s.

HE'S NEVER TAKEN AN EXTRA POINT FOR GRANTED.

If the game is close, maybe you'll slide to the edge of your seat as the kicker sets up for the extra point. Maybe.

But perhaps you don't realize just how important every point is to someone like Matthew.

Matthew knows everything there is to know about child abuse. He's seen it and he's felt it. He is an expert at hiding in the closet, under the bed and beneath the house. But for the first time in his life, Matthew is learning what it's like to be loved.

For every point Clemson scores this season, First Union will donate $25 to Helping Hands of Clemson, a non-profit organization of professionals and volunteers dedicated to helping and caring for a lot of children just like Matthew.

So, this year when you're cheering for the Tigers, cheer a little louder for Matthew. Everyone at First Union will be.

A month ago the Clemson Athletic Department inducted former All-American Jeff Davis into the Ring of Honor at Memorial Stadium, the highest honor a Clemson football player can receive. In the ceremony, Davis was cited for his accomplishments as an All-American, ACC MVP and captain of Clemson's National Championship team of 1981.

But, his contributions to Clemson continued after he graduated. His accomplishments and legend were a major reason Ed McDaniel, whose size and playing career have been a virtual clone of Davis, earned All-America honors for the Tigers a decade later.

"I was not highly recruited in high school," said McDaniel, now in his fourth year with the Minnesota Vikings. "But, when Coach (Tom) Harper was recruiting me he told me and other people I was going to be the next Judge."

Davis had been nicknamed "The Judge" because when he was on the field, he was in charge. Davis was listed at just 6-0 and 223 pounds at Clemson, and McDaniel was similar in height and projected to be at the 225 pound level at Clemson.

"Being compared to Jeff Davis made me feel good, but it also sounded like they would give me a chance to play. I was not the biggest guy in the world so I was wondering if that would hold me back in some coach's eyes, but when they gave Jeff a chance and he succeeded I thought they might give me a chance."

Another former Clemson great who has gone on to a successful pro career had an impact on McDaniel's matriculation to Tigertown. "I grew up just 20 miles from the Perrys (William and Michael Dean) and my high school (Batesburg-Leesville) played against Michael Dean's high school. My high school coach was a guy named Gary Smaller and he coached Michael Dean at South Aiken before he came to my high school. He told me about Clemson and I think his prior relationship with the Clemson coaches convinced them to give me a chance."

McDaniel came to Clemson in the fall of 1987 along with fellow linebackers Levon Kirkland, Doug Brewster, and John Johnson all of whom have gone on to a pro career. McDaniel red-shirted his first year, then was a substitute as the 1988 season began. Even though he played just 18 snaps in the game, the third contest that year, the famous "puntooskie game" against Florida State, changed McDaniel's football career. "I remember coming off the bench in that Florida State game. I didn't play a lot, but I was pretty productive. It gave the coaches confidence in me and I started the next week against Georgia Tech."

McDaniel had eight tackles in his first start at Tech and he was off and running. In the Citrus Bowl against 9th-ranked Oklahoma, McDaniel led all tacklers with 14 stops, quite a performance in this defensive struggle that ended with a 13-6 Clemson victory. It was the first time an ACC team had ever beaten Oklahoma.

McDaniel will be the first to tell you that he learned quite a bit from his Clemson experience, especially in his first few years under Miles Aldridge. "I am playing in the NFL today because of what I learned from coach Aldridge. He taught me what it takes when I was young and that carried over the rest of my career. He taught me to be tough."

"Even when I went to Clemson for camp in high school he was like that. One day he said to me, 'Ed are you ever going to hit someone.' I said, 'put anyone in front of me and I'll hit em.' When the coaching staff change took place it was easy for me. I just kept doing what Coach Aldridge had taught me and I was fine."

McDaniel has been a surprise in the NFL, much as former Tiger Jeff Davis was with Tampa Bay in the mid-eighties.

In 1988 as a red-shirt freshman, McDaniel led the Tigers in tackles with 104, still a record for tackles by a freshman. He was just the second freshman in Clemson history to lead the Tigers in tackles and he was named an honorable mention All-American by The Sporting News. He was the surprise of the year considering he was never even all-state in high school.

Clemson continued to win in McDaniel's sophomore, junior and senior seasons. In fact, the Tigers never lost more than two games in the four years he played and every season concluded with a trip to a bowl game. In 1991 the Tigers won the ACC Championship.

"I remember all those bowl trips and playing South Carolina the most," recalled McDaniel, who dedicates his football success to his "two moms", Annie McDaniel and Myra Mecham. "We beat Penn State my first year, then Oklahoma, West Virginia and Illinois. When I see guys in the NFL we played against in those games I hold the bragging rights forever. That was great about those bowl games, they could never get back at you because you weren't going to play them again."

Another form of bragging rights McDaniel takes with him is the rivalry with South Carolina. As a native of the state he takes special pride in the fact that the Gamecocks never beat Clemson in his four years on the field.

McDaniel earned first-team All-America honors from College & Pro Football Weekly and third-team Associated Press All-America honors in 1991, his senior season. He was one of 10 semifinalists for the Butkus Award, as he was the top tackler (114) on the number-one rushing defense in the nation. By season's end he had tied the Clemson career record for caused fumbles. His total of 10 tied none other than Jeff Davis.

Like Davis, he was not a hot topic when it came to the NFL draft evaluators in the Spring of 1992. Even though he ranked third in Clemson history in career tackles with 389 (Davis was second with 469) McDaniel was not taken until the fifth round, the 125 player chosen. Incredibly, Davis had also been a fifth-round pick and the 128th player chosen.

Like Davis, McDaniel has proven the Mel Kuiper's of the world wrong. Last year he ranked second on the Vikings in tackles with 174, including 21 in the season opener against Green Bay, the second highest single game tackle total in Minnesota history. This year he continues to be a mainstay of the Vikings defense with 24 stops through three games, again second on the club. He also has an interception and a fumble recovery.

So, it certainly looks like Ed McDaniel will continue to prove everyone wrong for some time to come, a fact that will probably continue even after his playing days are over. You see, he has something else in common with Davis. In the off season he finished up his degree requirements and graduated from Clemson last year.

MATT REEVES

by Jamie Hill

Success isn't always measured in total net yards, tackles-for-loss or touchdowns scored. It is the direct result of a person who has put forth their strongest effort in reaching a set of desired goals.

Growing up in Anderson, SC, Matt Reeves dreamt of playing football for the Tigers, something that many kids in the area shared with him. "Ever since I was a kid I dreamt about playing football for Clemson, and it was something that I really thought would come true all during high school," said Reeves. "It was kind of discouraging during my senior year at T.L. Hanna when I wasn't recruited by Clemson. But I made sure that wherever I played that I would put forth my best effort, because I loved playing football."

Coming out of high school, Reeves only heard from some Division I-AA schools, and instead of settling for a "second choice", he decided to enroll in the Air Force Academy preparatory school. It was a decision that would help Matt in realizing his dream to play for Clemson. "I had a good year at the academy, but I didn't think that the military atmosphere was for me. Every time we played a game, I would always have this image of playing in Death Valley, and since I was playing well at the time, I thought I would come home and try out for the team."

"I came out in August (of 1992) and initially I started out at inside linebacker during the workouts. It was a shock when Coach (Ken) Hatfield told me that I had made the team, because I wasn't expecting to be here, you know being short and lacking in certain areas. It just goes to show that hard work does pay off."

Reeves went on to play in his very first game against Ball State (1992 season) on special teams. "After the Ball State game, that Sunday they moved me to fullback in the stack I formation that we were running at the time. I got in for some real snaps during the Florida State game. It was incredible, I got to block Marvin Jones (now N.Y. Jets linebacker) and that was the first time that I actually got to experience the atmosphere and excitement at a Clemson game."

So far, Reeves is one of just two active players on the Clemson squad to have played in every game over the last three years. He is joined by defensive end Carlos Curry in this impressive category that documents reliability and dependability.

Most successful high school players enter college with one thing on their mind, football. Matt Reeves was no exception, but he discovered that academics and the future were just as important. "Coming out of high school all I really thought about was football, and that was it. I didn't think about academics a lot, but as I have grown and matured through college I have realized it is very significant, the reason I am here."

Being a Secondary Education/History major is almost the equivalent to getting a double major, but Reeves sees his major not as work or a burden, but rather as a challenge and something to look forward to everyday. "I've just really enjoyed my classes, especially my history classes, it's something that interests me and an area that I would like to continue in after college."

It's not everyday that a walk-on student-athlete earns a scholarship, let alone makes disciplined and extremely hard working and I guess what stands out in my mind about Matt Reeves is his consistency and intensity. I don't think he'll ever miss a workout unless other factors are involved, because he really enjoys training and sees it as a way of getting better at his position."

Matt's position coach, Miles Aldridge, agrees with coach Wade. "Matt is the kind of person you want to have on your football team, he goes out and does the job he's told to do. He's been able to adapt well from fullback to linebacker since I've been coaching him. His hard work and work ethic are excellent skills that he has been able to use in football and in his academics."

Being 5'10" and a shade over 200 lbs, Matt doesn't exactly strike the average football fan as being a linebacker, but what he lacks in height and power, he makes up for in instinct and heart. "Playing hard day in and day out is about the only thing I really have going for me on the football field. I don't have a lot of speed and my size doesn't really typify a traditional Clemson linebacker, but I've got a big heart and I think that has helped me when I go out there. I don't get intimidated very easily and if you've got the ball and I can get to you, then I'm going to hit you."

In addition to his success on the field and in the classroom, Matt has been a leader in his community, as he just recently started a new church, with the help of his brother, in the Clemson area. Along with his Wednesday services, Matt has spoken to area FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) groups, describing his busy life as a married student-athlete. "My brother and I started a church in Clemson about a month ago and it's gone very well. I've seen a lot of people and I enjoy being able to help out a person who might be frustrated or just needs to talk."

In the community, Reeves has spoken to teenagers about his life and tried to present to them an accurate picture of how his life has been impacted by football and school. "I think I've spoken to about 30,000 people over the last four years. I try to tell them about my life as a football player, and the pressures that accompany the lifestyle. I think they need to know about these experiences, so they can be better prepared for the road ahead."

Although you might not see him featured on SportsCenter every Saturday night, Matt Reeves is a success story. He has gotten the most out of his abilities and that is the mark of a true champion.

Reeves has been a mainstay of Clemson's special teams for four seasons.

the roster. The chances of this happening are slim-to-none and are only the result of a player giving that extra effort, yet knowing he will most likely act as practice fodder for the first team.

"I was so surprised that I was playing, even if it was only on special teams. It's kind of funny, but in the back of my head I had this feeling that I might get a scholarship, because at the time, I was the only one on the team who could long snap."

One person who has served witness to Reeves' dedication to hard work and wanting to learn more about his position is head strength and conditioning coach Gary Wade. "What a committed young man, he's never missed a workout since the day he stepped foot in the weight room. He's very Traditions are something that don't happen overnight, they evolve over a number of years. One tradition at Clemson that is going strong and heading into its 61st year is IPTAY. The IPTAY Scholarship Foundation, is known throughout the country for its faithful and generous contributions by its supporters. A recent USA Today article called IPTAY the best-known organization of its kind in the nation. The article noted that at a time when college athletic costs are rising IPTAY continues to lead the way in supporting athletic scholarships at Clemson. IPTAY plays a major role in ensuring that all 18 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships allowed by the NCAA.

IPTAY completed another record breaking year in 1994-95 when it went over the $6 million mark for the second straight year. The total number of members reached 19,000. The Tiger Cub Club was introduced in 1993, giving Clemson fans from birth to age 22 a chance to become involved in Tiger athletics. That club is now approaching the 2,000 mark in terms of members.

Thanks to this support, Clemson enjoyed another banner year in 1994-95. Nine Clemson teams, including five spring sports, advanced to NCAA play. Clemson was one of four schools in the nation to have its football, basketball, and baseball teams ranked in the top 25 of the USA Today poll at one time or another. Clemson had four ACC Rookie-of-the-Year selections and 22 All-Americans.

IPTAY is recognized as one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America. IPTAY was the first athletic fundraising organization in the country to top the two, three, four, and five-million dollar marks in annual donations.

In 1934, Dr. Rupert Fike founded IPTAY with a very simple purpose in mind: IPTAY provides funds for athletic scholarships. Since 1934 IPTAY has certainly met Fike's goal, providing scholarships for over 5,000 student-athletes, trainers, and managers.

IPTAY currently provides the funds for tutorial programs staffed by trained academic advisors, assisted by graduate and undergraduate students. This support is intended to ensure that all student-athletes are given the opportunity to earn their degree while participating in athletics.

IPTAY donors have also played an intricate role in the "Campaign for Clemson", a long range fund-raising project of the University. The University's original goal of 62 million dollars was surpassed with the next goal of 78 million also being surpassed in the campaign that ended on June 30, 1992. IPTAY provided three million dollars with ongoing opportunities for donors to be part of the Vickery Hall Academic Learning Center.

Vickery Hall, located on East Campus, is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. The building contains various-sized study and tutoring rooms used for individual study as well as small group instruction.

This building is a major reason Clemson student-athletes had a record 2.55 GPA in the Spring Semester of 1995. Additionally, 83 student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, the highest figure in Clemson history. A record number of students also made the Dean's List and the President's List.

The generous support of loyal donors to IPTAY has allowed the organization to go beyond the funding of athletic scholarships by providing the financial basis for many of the unparalleled athletic facilities at Clemson.

Since 1978, IPTAY has provided the funding for $34 million of capital improvements in the area of athletics. These improvements include the expansion of the football stadium, the renovated baseball facility (Tiger Field), the outdoor track with new stadium facilities, the indoor tennis facility, the soccer stadium, the weight room, the new golf practice area, a new cross country course, the McFadden Building, and the IPTAY/Ticket office facility.

The facilities are among the best in the country, at least that must be the opinion of the NCAA. Over the last two years Clemson has played host to NCAA events in four different sports, including three in 1994-95.

IPTAY is also proud to provide the funding for Tiger Band. Each year IPTAY establishes financial support for travel, uniforms and equipment for this integral part of the Clemson athletic program.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. This scholarship endowment is funded by certain company gifts that are made as a result of employee contributions to IPTAY. In addition, the athletic department has made generous contributions to the endowment from athletic revenues.

The IPTAY Academic Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson providing $2.3 million in funds, currently benefitting more than 60 students. IPTAY's support extends to all of the student body.

The tremendous support of IPTAY is due, in large part, to the organizational makeup that allows donors to be as close to IPTAY as they are to their local IPTAY leadership. Each of South Carolina's 46 counties has an IPTAY County chairman, and every county is allotted an IPTAY representative for every 35 donors.

One important way IPTAY keeps in touch with its membership is the annual Clemson Club meeting held in April and May of each year. These meetings, which feature different coaches and administrators are just one of the ways of making the local IPTAY members feel close to Clemson.

Clemson University will continue to be recognized and respected on the national level athletically and academically with the full support of IPTAY. IPTAY will continue to be successful because a loyal commitment to Clemson University is a way of life in the hearts of Clemson alumni and friends.

One of the factors in Dr. Deno Curriss' decision to come to Clemson was the consistent love of the school expressed by Clemson graduates and IPTAY members.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Lady Tigers are getting ready to make a lasting impression on this year's national rankings. Lady Tiger Head Coach Andy Johnston simply calls it "a great nucleus of talent."

"In the absence of two All-Americans who couldn't play, we did well to finish in the 30s of the ITA poll. We played with no excuses and the younger players gained much experience for the 1996 season," said Johnston, who is in his 14th year at Clemson.

"In 1996 we're going to get after people. Jan Barrett and Emma Peetz have three years of experience and I expect them to lead this great nucleus of talent into the top 15 of the ITA poll."

Clemson returns five starters in singles play from the 1995 team.

Barrett finished her 1995 season at the NCAA Tournament in Malibu, CA. She concluded the season ranked 56th in the ITA poll and played number-one singles for the Lady Tigers all season. The senior from Ontario, Canada finished 16-18 overall in singles play (9-12 in dual matches).

"I expect big things from Jan this year. She will play high in the lineup and I'm looking for her to make All-American. Jan's work ethic will inspire the younger girls. She will have a great senior year."

Peetz is the other senior on the team who will challenge for the top singles spots in the lineup. She finished 15-15 overall in the number-two singles position, and a team best 18-11 overall in doubles play. Like Barrett, she was voted All-ACC for 1995—her third consecutive All-ACC selection.

"I expect great senior leadership from Emma. She's a big force in the lineup and can make All-American. If she stays focused and works hard physically she can reach all of her goals."

Junior, Melissa Odom, who played number-four singles for Clemson in 1995, is a player who has grown and matured and is ready to take it to the next level. Last season she finished 13-16 overall in singles and 7-7 overall in doubles.

"Melissa had a trying sophomore year. She came through for us in a couple of big situations. However, she hasn't had a full year of showing her talents because of injury. If she is consistent with her play she will get the wins and really break through to a higher level of tennis."

The three newcomers of 1995 are now in their sophomore year, and Coach Johnston is excited for their future. Annie Trepanie, Devrin Carr, and Selina Dunworth each gained valuable match experience in 1995 because Shannon King and Janice Durden, both All-Americans at some point in their career, were unable to play.

Trepanie, from Quebec, Canada, finished fifth at the Canadian Championships in 1994. She finished sixth in the Canadian 18-and-under singles rankings. In her freshman year she went a consistent 18-13 overall in both singles and doubles play.

"Annie had a very good freshman year. She came in here and did a great job at winning a lot of singles and doubles matches. Annie has a lot of enthusiasm and confidence, she only needs to use these qualities to improve and keep building for the upcoming season."

Carr is a four-time South Carolina all-state selection. She also had a 128-17 record during her high school career. As a freshman at Clemson she went 12-15 overall in the number-six singles position of the lineup.

"Coming off a year long back injury, Devrin started off her season pretty shaky; her game has come on well. With hard work she can easily break through to be a real force in the singles lineup."

Another sophomore, Dunworth was a Florida High School state tournament singles runner-up for three years in a row. In her 1995 season she went 3-3 overall in singles play.

"Selina came in not knowing what to expect about college tennis and was tested by throwing her into the fire. She got a lot of valuable experience last season that should help her now."

For the 1996 season, Clemson added three new players. Sophie Woorons, Chrissi Cerratani, and Meredith Chandler and they have all come in to create Johnston's "great nucleus of talent."

While Coach Johnston questions whether these new recruits will come in and take the top spots in the lineup, he is sure that they will force the returning women to raise their level of play.

"With Sophie Woorons, Meredith Chandler and Chrissi Cerratani coming in we'll have great depth. It will be a real battle for all of the positions in the lineup. Practices will be exciting and competitive."

"Sophie has come to us from France. She played in small tournaments around France for the past two years. First she needs to adjust to college life and school. I expect her to contribute to the team."

"Chrissi has a lot of spunk and enthusiasm. She's a good doubles player and should help us in many ways."

"Chandler is one of the top junior players in South Carolina the last two years. Meredith needs to develop her game and gain experience this year."

Coach Johnston is looking forward to turning the tables back around in doubles play this coming season. Playing without two All-American doubles players, 1995 was a year of "mix-and-match/swap-and-drop" syndrome for the Lady Tiger's doubles pairs.

In 1996, however, Johnston expects to win at least two out of three doubles but in most cases sweep. "Chrissi and Sophie are very good doubles players. With these two and the experience we already have, we will have three very good doubles teams."

Johnston has set some high goals for his 1996 team, but with his 14 years of experience and the many successes that have gone with it, we have no reason to doubt him. "Our goal is to make the top 15 (nationally) and to win the ACC Championship. These are goals that are well within reach, now we need to go after them fearlessly."

Peetz is a veteran who hopes to lead the Lady Tigers back among the nation's elite.

1995 CLEMSON FOOTBALL

by Jessica Reo

Sprints/Hurdles/Middle Distance

The sprints and hurdles program for the Tigers has always been one of excellence, as evidenced by a national championship ring returning to Clemson in the 110mHH in 1995. And this year, with these returnees and these recruits, is no exception to that rule. The Tigers graduated a national champion in Duane Ross, and strongholds of the program in Mitchel Francis, Clarence Richards, and Enayat Oliver.

The Tigers return junior Tony Wheeler as the '95 ACC indoor and outdoor champion in the 200m dash and a five-time All-American. Wheeler finished third at the NCAA Indoor Championships and sixth at the outdoors and nabbed four more All-America certificates in the process.

Sophomore Carlton Chambers, an All-America for the Tigers in '95, looks to make an even better appearance for Clemson in '96. He returns as the top 100m man and had one NCAA provisional qualifying time for the Tigers in '95 in the 100m dash, in addition to qualifying the Tigers for nationals in the 4x400m dash.

Greg Hines returns for his sophomore year after attaining one of the most successful freshman campaigns in Clemson's history. Hitting six NCAA provisional qualifying marks in the 400mH and the 110mHH, and taking third at the ACC Outdoor Championships in the 400mH is quite an accomplishment. Hines also posted two sixth place finishes in those events at the 100th annual Penn Relays in Philadelphia. Aaron Haynes is one of Clemson's top hurdlers and he returns to take the lead for his junior year with the Tigers. Haynes and Hines have both run on the mile relay team and will add the depth and experience needed to commandeer the hurdles in '96.

Shawn Thomas and Davidson Gill are both excellent sprinters who made a mark for themselves in the '95 season. Shawn Thomas has an incredible work ethic and looks to break into one of the top sprinting spots this year. He was on the team that qualified for the indoor nationals last year in the 4x400m relays. He takes on the 200m and 400m races and ran in both the ACC indoor and outdoor championships in those events last year.

Davidson Gill worked primarily on the indoor season, finishing in second at the ACC Indoor Championships in the 800m, but returns in '96 ready to participate in both indoor and outdoor. He will run in the 400m, the 800m, and the relay races for the Tigers in '96.

Ryan Wilson adds depth to the middle distance category, and comes to the aid of Fred Tillison and David Newlin, both middle distance runners. Both competed in the preliminary races of the ACC indoor and outdoor championships in '95 and strive to make it to the finals this year in the 800m.

Clemson's relay teams have a great history made up of the core sprint groups that have done immensely well for the Tigers in recent history. Of the 1995 ACC Outdoor 4x400m Relay champions in Ross, Wheeler, Chambers, and Oliver, only two return, but the program is experienced and strong, and the gaps will be filled quickly.

Recruiting in these events will help this year, as evidenced by newcomers Darius Downer, out of Elberton, GA, Billy Totten, out of Summerville, SC, and Jeremichael Williams, out of Dallas, TX.

Downer comes to the Tigers as the Georgia

State 110mHH champion with his best time of 14.15. He will also add to Clemson's jumps program, as he doubles as a triple and long jumper. He was ranked #7 in Track & Field News as a triple jumper and is a versatile athlete who should compliment Clemson's program.

Totten will add some depth to the sprints program. He ran the 100m, 200m and 400m in high school and looks to add to all of those events here at Clemson. He has a possibility of becoming a part of Clemson's 4x100m relay team.

Jeremichael Williams transfers to the Tigers from Blinn College as the National JUCO 55mH champion with a time of 7.38. In 1995, he was also the National JUCO 110mHH runner-up with a time of 13.85. He is the USA Junior National Champion in the 110mHHs and competed at the Pan-American Junior Championships in Santiago, Chile this past fall.

Marcus Phillips transfers to the Tigers from the University of South Carolina. He hails from Decatur, GA and is prepared to work his way into the sprints and hurdles immediately. He qualified for the 400mH with a time of 51.40 last year. He has run the 110mHH, the mile relay, and has done duty at the long jumper slot.

Jumps

The Tigers have struggled in the jumps area in the past, but last season proved to be one of the best for Clemson in recent history. With John Thorp attaining two All-America certificates in the high jump, he became the first Clemson Tiger to receive an All-America certificate in a field event during Bob Pollock's tenure.

Josh Scott has had a great deal of success in the decathlon and has been an excellent high jumper and long jumper in the past. Also returning is Bryan McCrossen, who takes up where Thorp left off in the high jump. After finishing in a tie for sixth last season at the ACC Outdoor Championships, McCrossen looks to move to higher heights and more success during both indoor and outdoor.

Rudy Currie returns for his junior session with the Tigers after doing double duty as a football player for Clemson's team. He will take on the high jump again and improve on his tie for ninth place at the '95 ACC Outdoor Championships. Tony Horne, another Clemson football player, adds experience for the Tigers in the triple jump. He finished in sixth place at the ACC indoor track championships and will attempt to better his performance in '96.

The incoming freshman class only promises good things for the Tigers in terms of depth and possibilities. Clemson recruited four primary jumpers, who can also add depth in other events.

Kenny Franklin is a state recruit, who comes from Sumter, SC. Franklin is the South Carolina state champion in the long jump and the triple jump. Jason Brewer comes to Clemson from nearby Walhalla, SC where he was named the South Carolina high jump champion in both 1994 and 1995 with his 7'0" best jump. B.J. Vaughn, out of Staunton, VA, is the Virginia state high jump champion from 1995 with his jump of 6'8" as well.

Pole Vault/Decathlon

After the 1995 red-shirt of All-America candidate Eric Lander, things are definitely improving for the Tigers in '96. Lander returns to his form in the decathlon of two years ago, ready to bring home an All-America certificate to Clemson in 1996.

Lander was an indoor national qualifier in 1994 in the decathlon and also had a tremendous season in the pole vault that year as well. He returns to outdoors only this year and looks to make an impact on that season.

Complementing him is David Hartzler, who was the runner-up at the ACC outdoor championships in the pole vault last season. He and Josh Scott will add experience to an area where the Tigers need excellence. Dee Grist is a newcomer to the Tigers who specializes in the pole vault. He transfers to the Tigers from ACC-rival Florida State and was the Georgia state runner-up in the pole vault as a senior in high school. Jason Tomsic is a transfer from Lehigh University and has one year of college experience. He was the Penn Relays pole vault champion his senior year in high school and was the Pennsylvania state champ in the pole vault as well. Tom Hopkins hails from Madison, CT and will work on the decathlon and the javelin. He should compliment returnee Damian DiCola, who returns for his sophomore year after transferring from Maryland.

Throws

Returning to Clemson's starting slots in the throws are Andy Peterson and Matt Helinski. Their contribution to the throws program was phenomenal last season. Helinski finished in fifth place in the 35# weight throw at the ACC Indoor Championships and then finished in eighth place at the ACC Outdoors in the javelin. Peterson did not compete at the ACC's, but is ready to take on that challenge this year.

Aaron Larson comes to the Tigers from Ontario, Canada as a freshman. He was on the Junior All-Canadian team in the shot, discus, and hammer.

Tony Wheeler is a returning All-American who is a 1996 Olympic hopeful.

The McFadden Building

McFadden Building

The Clemson Athletic Department continued its commitment to provide its student-athletes with the best facilities when it recently completed the Banks McFadden Building at the Jervey Athletic Center. The dedication of this 20,000-square-foot facility last April was the cornerstone of the Jervey Athletic Center renovation project that will be completed in 1996. It is designed to give all Clemson gridders the most modern and comfortable facilities in the nation.

The McFadden Building houses all the coaching offices and meeting rooms for Clemson's football team. The facility has meeting rooms for all nine position areas, so players are no longer forced to view film and discuss key strategy in a coach's cramped office. Each meeting room is equipped with "state of the art" video equipment.

There is also an auditorium that will hold as many as 180 people and is used for team meetings and press conferences. Additionally, there are private rooms for interviews with the media, a lounge, and even a pro scout facility that allows NFL representatives to view film of current Tigers in air-conditioned comfort.

The facility will also house a trophy and memorabilia area at its entrance. Much of the area will be devoted to Banks McFadden, the former Clemson All-American and coach who perhaps had as much an impact on Clemson athletic history as anyone.

The construction of the McFadden building is one of the final stages of the overall renovation of the Jervey Athletic Center. Last summer the Tiger football team came back to a new and expanded locker room with fresh paint, new carpeting, new lockers and more space. The training room was also expanded and a player lounge area, complete with video games and televisions, was constructed. By next year the weight room below the Jervey Athletic Center will be increased in size to an incredible 14,000 square feet from its already impressive 11,000 square feet.

"The completion of the McFadden building gives us outstanding facilities in every area," said Head Coach Tommy West. "We now have a stadium that is second to none as far as its appearance, tradition and ability to accommodate large crowds in a pleasant and unique setting. We have a new, modern and spacious locker room, team area and training facilities. And, the meeting and office areas are comfortable places to learn and work."

What we mean by putting South Carolina first.

We founded Carolina First because, well, because we felt we had to. • South Carolina's community banks were being bought up and run to serve absentee owners. • Being South Carolinians, we didn't care to do without a strong bank dedicated to our state's well-being. Being bankers, we created this bank. • If we understand South Carolina's needs, it's because they're the needs of our own friends and neighbors. We invest in South Carolina businesses because it's good business for all concerned. After all, when our home communities grow and prosper, we grow and prosper. And because we treat our customers as the individuals they are, their good feelings spark our own. • We'd treat any customer from anywhere this way. But by design – and in conscious contrast to the multi-state megabanks – our customers are South Carolinians. So are we. Is it any wonder we put South Carolina first?

CAROLINA FIRST

ACC FOOTBALL

*The ACC has had five bowl teams in each of the past two seasons and at least four bowl teams six years in a row.

*The ACC was the only conference to have five teams ranked in both the final AP and USA Today polls in 1994.

*The league had five teams with eight or more wins. Six teams, including Clemson, were ranked in the top 25 of both polls at one time or another in 1994.

*Five ACC Players, including Clemson's Ed Glenn, were named first-team Academic All-American, while five players were named first-team All-American.

*The ACC is the only conference to have all of its members play in at least one bowl game over the last six years.

*Nine times in the last 15 years an ACC member school has won the CFA Academic Achievement Award.

*Over the last 14 years the ACC and the Big Eight have captured more college football national championships than any other conference. Clemson won the title in 1981, Georgia Tech in 1990 and Florida State in 1993.

*The nine ACC schools that will take to the field this fall have produced 304 first or second-team gridiron All-Americans and 47 first-team Academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,280 players selected in the annual NFL draft, including 81 first-round selections.

*Clemson and Florida State are two of just six teams nationally who have won at least 75 percent of their games in seven of the last nine years. Clemson and Florida State are two of just four teams to win at least six bowl games since 1986.

*For the fourth consecutive year the ACC drew more than 2.2 million fans. Over 51 home dates, ACC schools attracted 2,262,017 fans. ACC teams played to 88 percent of their stadium capacities. Clemson ranked 13th in the nation in average attendance, its 13th straight year in the top 15 in the nation in attendance.

*If success in postseason play is a barometer of excellence, the ACC is among the best leagues in the nation. The nine ACC teams have a combined 73-62-5 record in bowl games over the years, a .540 winning percentage. That is second only to the Pac-10's .550 success rate. Three ACC teams are among the top eight in NCAA history in terms of bowl winning percentage.

*Four ACC teams are guaranteed appearing in postseason bowls this year. Five ACC teams received bowl bids in 1993 and 1994. The ACC Champion will be part of the Bowl Alliance, the #2 team will go to the Gator Bowl, the #3 team to the Peach Bowl and the #4 team to the Carquest Bowl.

*ACC Football teams made 26 appearances on National Television in 1994.

*The ACC won three national championships in 1994-95 and has now won 21 national championships in the last five years.

*Four schools ranked in the top 25 of the Sears Cup for all-around excellence in athletics.

*Eight ACC teams, including the Clemson baseball team, earned a number-one ranking during the course of the 1994-95 academic year.

*The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the ninth straight year as 1,171 student-athletes achieved at least a 3.0 for the year in the classroom.

Clemson and Florida State are two of the most successful teams in college football history in bowl games.

EMERGENCY SERVICES

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations (North stands, upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck). These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMTs and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can frequently be more harmful than helpful.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry. Moderation is the key with dress, food, beverage intake, and physical exertion. The two most frequent medical problems at football games are allergic reactions to insect stings and heart attacks.

INSECT STINGS:

Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK:

The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two minutes or more.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL

Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

Find out what's really wrong. Prompt response can dramatically increase chances of survival and recovery.

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

Riggs Field

Riggs Field was dedicated on October 2, 1915 (see photo). The Tigers and Davidson battled to a 6-6 tie that day, but Riggs Field would become the best home field in Clemson history. The Tigers posted a 57-16-6 record on Riggs Field between 1915 and 1942 and the 76 percent winning mark is the best among Clemson's three home sites. Auburn was the only team to beat Clemson more than twice at Riggs field during that time and the Tigers more than tripled the opposition (1538-469) in scoring during those 79 games in the facility. It is the current site of the Clemson soccer stadium.

October 17, 1903—Clemson defeated Georgia Tech 73-0. Clemson rushed the ball 55 times for 660 yards, still a school record, while Tech ran the ball 35 times and collected 28 yards. The second half was shortened to 15 minutes.

October 28, 1903—The Tigers defeated N.C. State 24-0 in Columbia, SC at the fair grounds. One incident that delayed the game's start was the fact that the sideline spectators in their eagerness to see each play crowded in front of the grandstand and on the field. Twenty minute halves were played owing to the fact that the field had to be given to the racing association at 12:45 p.m. Even these short halves could not be played out and the time limit was up when 16 minutes of the second half had been played. Heisman married Evelyn Barksdale in Columbia after the game.

November 26, 1903—One day after Tech's deadline for its offer had expired, Heisman wired Georgia Tech's president Lyman Hall, that he would accept the institute's offer of $2,250 per year plus 30 percent of net receipts to coach its athletic teams.

Sept. 30, 1904—Clemson began practice under a new Head Coach, Dr. Shack Shealy, who was at one time a great football player. He played varsity ball six years, four at Clemson and two at Iowa State. He is the only Clemson graduate to serve as Clemson's head coach.

November 11, 1905—The Clemson-Auburn game was called on account of darkness. Clemson won, 6-0.

November 29, 1906—Clemson's first forward pass occurred in a 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. Powell Lykes dropped back to kick, but instead made a forward pass of 30 yards to George Warren.

Tiger Timeline

Mutt Gee

Gee was one of Clemson's first star linemen. He was an all-state choice in both 1916 and 1917 and was an All-Southern choice in 1917. According to his coach "Jiggs" Donahue,

"he was the best center I ever saw." Gee went on to serve as President of East Texas State University in Commerce, TX between 1947-66.

Vet Sitton

Vet Sitton is well known for his baseball prowess (see photo as a member of the 1908 Pittsburgh Pirates). But, Sitton was one of Clemson's first football stars. He was an All-Southern end in 1903, one of four All-Southern selections for the Tigers on the 1903 Tiger team that played for the Championship of the South.

Shorty Schilleter

Schilleter, the man for whom the dining hall on the Clemson campus is named, was an all-state lineman in 1911 and 1912 and All-Southern tackle at Clemson in 1913.

Schilleter was chosen as a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame in 1974. He went on to serve his country in both World Wars, rising to the rank of colonel in WWII. He won the Silver Star and commendation medal with clusters during his military career.

Tiger Timeline

September 28, 1907—The cadets of Clemson College braved wind and rain at Bowman Field to witness the Tigers in their earliest season opener to date. Clemson met Gordon Military Academy from Georgia on a muddy field. Clemson was playing under new Coach Frank Shaughnessy, a former Notre Dame star who to this day holds the Notre Dame record for the longest run. He had replaced Bob Williams. R.H. "Doc" McFadden carried the ball much of the way, and Stick Coles went in from 15 yards for a touchdown. This would be all the Tigers would need in a 5-0 victory.

November 4-9, 1907—Clemson played three games within a week's time. Clemson lost to Auburn 12-0 on November 4, and lost to Georgia in Augusta, GA on November 7. The Tigers barely made it back in time to play Davidson at Clemson on November 9, and lost 10-6.

April 1, 1908—Tiger football hopes of the 1908 season were shattered on this day, not by what happened in spring practice, but what 300 students did as a college prank on April Fool's Day. The cadets were expelled for removing a Civil War cannon from the town square of Pendleton, four miles down the road from campus, and bringing the cannon back to Clemson. Many of the football stars, as well as many future star players, were among those who were expelled.

November 2, 1911—Clemson played before the biggest crowd to watch an athletic event in the state of South Carolina at that time. A total of 3,000 spectators, 700 of whom were Clemson cadets, saw Clare Webb score two touchdowns on the way to a 27-0 defeat of the South Carolina Gamecocks at the annual state fair at Columbia, SC. Webb scored from one and two yards out in the Tiger victory. The contest started at 11:00 a.m.

Goat McMillan

When O.K. Pressley graduated from Clemson's 1928 team the burden of star and leader of the Clemson program fell on "Goat" McMillan. He responded with an outstanding season, leading Clemson to its second consecutive eight-win season, including a victory over South Carolina (at right with ball). McMillan was named All-Southern in 1929, the first running back so honored since Stumpy Banks in 1919. McMillan served Clemson as an assistant coach between 1937-41 and 1946-64.

Boo Armstrong

Armstrong was a great leader of the 1917-20 Clemson teams. He was a running back who was the first four-year starter in the backfield in Clemson history. As you can see by the photo, his toughness typified college football in that era. He was elected Clemson captain in 1920.

Stumpy Banks

Banks is still listed in the Clemson record books for five rushing touchdown game against Furman in 1917, a 38-0 Tiger victory. Banks, who came to Clemson in 1914 as a 104-pound quarterback, was a three-time all-state choice and was All-Southern in 1919. After his playing days were over, he manned the sideline chains at all Clemson home games for 35 years.

Tiger Timeline

Nov. 7, 1914—Clemson defeated Georgia 35-14 at Athens, GA. It would be Clemson's last win in Athens until 1977.

Sept. 25, 1915—Clemson defeated Furman 94-0. W.K. Magill scored four touchdowns for the Tigers.

Oct. 9, 1915—The Tigers traveled to Knoxville, where they won fame by defeating defending conference champion Tennessee, 3-0. Bill Harris dropped a 20-yard field goal for the only score of the game in the fourth quarter. Tennessee was the defending champion of the S.I.A.A.

October 26, 1916—Five thousand onlookers witnessed an excellent show of offense by Clemson as the Tigers defeated arch-rival South Carolina 27-0 at the annual South Carolina State Fair. Stumpy Banks scored two touchdowns in this game.

October 13, 1917—Clemson downed Furman 38-0, as the Tigers' Stumpy Banks scored five touchdowns, a record that still stands today.

November 16, 1918—The University of South Carolina athletic authorities provided the use of their stadium to Clemson and the Citadel for their annual game. South Carolina was playing at Furman that day and the field was not going to be used by the Gamecocks. The reason the game was played at Columbia instead of Charleston or Clemson was that the military officials from both Clemson and The Citadel would not allow players to be absent from any military duties due to athletic events. Since the game was played in Columbia both the Clemson and Citadel cadets and football teams would be able to make the trip to Columbia and return to duty on time. Clemson's John O'Dell scored the game's only tally as the Tigers won the game, 7-0. Both teams made it back to their campuses before their passes expired.

Josh Cody

Josh Cody (in the middle of the staff photo at left) is perhaps the most underrated coach in Clemson history. He was the Tigers mentor between 1927-30 and posted a 29-11-1 record, a 72 percent winning mark. He coached Clemson to three consecutive eight-victory seasons between 1928-29-30. Cody and Danny Ford are the only coaches in Clemson history to post three straight seasons of at least eight wins. He had a 13-0-1 record at home and never lost to South Carolina, posting a perfect 4-0 record. He is the only Clemson coach who never lost to the Gamecocks.

Bob Jones

Bob Jones served a lifetime for the Clemson athletic department and is one of the most respected contributors to the University's heritage. It is not a coincidence that Clemson tied the school record for wins each of the three years he started on the gridiron. He was an All-South Atlantic end for the Tigers in 1930 and also was a starter on the Clemson basketball teams between 1927-30. He later served as an assistant football coach and head coach of the Clemson golf and boxing teams.

Tiger Timeline

Oct. 4, 1926—Bud Saunders, Clemson head football coach, resigned in the middle of the season. Cul Richards and Frank Padgett were put in charge of the squad.

October 15, 1926—Bob Williams was named advisory coach.

December 27, 1926—Josh Cody was named head football coach.

September 19, 1928—Clemson began this season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time, with black composition cloth stripes on the front with purple numbers.

December, 1928 - O.K. Pressley, a center, was named third-team All-American by the Newspaper Enterprise Association. He was Clemson's first All-American in any sport.

May 6, 1929—Josh Cody, Clemson head coach, was presented with a new automobile that afternoon as a gift from alumni, faculty, students, and friends of the college. A special collection was taken up to purchase the new Buick. The presentation ceremony was staged in front of Tillman Hall.

Sept. 20, 1929—Clemson announced the completion of a press box which will accommodate about 30 writers.

The glass enclosed box was completed with heaters and electric fans for ventilation. At the time it was the most complete press box in the state.

Nov. 27, 1929—Clemson defeated Furman 7-6 in front of 9,000 fans, the biggest crowd ever at Clemson to see any campus event. Bob Jones scored Clemson's lone touchdown as a result of a Goat McMillan pass.

Tear it up!

There is an unfortunate but common trend taking place in football. Games that are played on artificial surfaces are seeing more and more players leaving the game with turf injuries, an injury that would have been avoided if the games were played on grass. Because of the injuries, many players, both professional and college, are calling for the removal of the turf, including Clemson linebacker Ed Hausgen.

"Football was not meant to be played on carpet. It is to be played in the mud, on grass, in the elements. I think artificial turf should be removed because it's the reason I had to spend months rehabilitating a knee injury," said Hausgen a linebacker and special team stand out for four years, who was injured in the 1993 Peach Bowl, in the Georgia Dome which has an artificial surface.

"When we watch our practice films you see plays where a guy will fall on a person's knee and you see grass shoot up as their foot kicks back. If those plays were on artificial turf they would have been hurt.

Hausgen injured his knee while he was trying to make a tackle on special teams. "I was running down on a punt and went to turn and my foot just stuck in the turf. I heard a pop and my knee buckled. It was a move that I made many times before on grass but the turf did not give at all.

"It was weird because in front of all those people with all that noise I heard the pop. I knew I was done. It was a terrible feeling."

The knee required reconstructive surgery, which meant the rehabilitation on the knee would be intense in order for Hausgen to return to the field. Every day, three times a week during the spring semester, he worked out. He had to then continue a series of exercises on the knee over the summer.

"It was difficult, but I had no choice if I wanted to return to the football field. My girl friend, Jennifer Flynn, took me to my workouts each day and was always there to help me any way she could. Danny Poole and Doc Hoover, our trainers, pushed me and supported me through the whole thing, which was great."

Another individual whose support and friendship was a key factor in Hausgen's return was Warren Forney. Forney, who injured his knee earlier in the 1993 season, also had reconstructive surgery.

"Warren was also very helpful. He was there every day I was. He is a great person and a hard worker. I looked up to him. I competed with him trying to get even with him because he was ahead in the rehabilitation process. That really helped me get back.

"Ed worked extremely hard to catch up to me," said Forney. "His hard work helped me because we pushed each other. A great friendship developed during that time. There would be days when I would not feel like working, and he would always pick me up and get me going. Other days, I would do the same for him.

"Ed very easily could have stopped playing, but he did not quit. He is like Clemson's version of Rudy. He works so hard just to get a chance to be a contributor to the team. He always goes all out in games and practice and has made a contribution to Clemson's success as a special teamer."

"Special teams is my game," said Hausgen one of two original walkons to earn three varsity letters entering this year. "We are not put into a category like the offensive and defensive players, but it is still a big part of the game. We are rarely mentioned in the papers, but deep down we know that we helped to make the big plays. Our blocks help to spring the return man or allow a big kick to be made. It is a team thing. If we do our job we will get the field position to help our defense and offense."

His most recognized contribution to date took place on a special teams play at Virginia in 1992. His second-half fumble recovery was a major factor in Clemson's 29-28 victory, the greatest comeback in Clemson history. That year Hausgen, a freshman walk-on running back, collected nine tackles on special teams.

The following year he made 10 tackles on special teams, second best on the team. He played in 11 games, missing only the South Carolina game due to an injury. In his four year career that is the only game he did not play. Last season he collected two tackles to give him 21 special team tackles for his career, second highest among active Tigers.

Being among the team's best special team players is nothing new to Hausgen. While at Madeira High School in Cincinnati, Ohio, he blocked a record 10 kicks in his career. His senior season he averaged 23.9 yards per kickoff return and blocked a record seven kicks. He also excelled on offense and defense setting seven school records. He established school bests by collecting 4400 all-purpose yards, 2424 rushing yards, 261 tackles, 172 points, 10 interceptions, 10 blocked kicks and 9 fumble recovers.

"I saw him play at a football camp at South Carolina," said Clemson's running back and special teams coach Rich Bisaccia. "I liked the way he hustled and his hard work. I thought he had a chance to play special teams at the Division one level because of that. He chose to come to Clemson and has been a solid player. He gives his all and does not complain. He is a true Tiger. He bleeds Clemson Orange."

"After my senior year I went to both the South Carolina and Clemson football camps," recalled Hausgen. "There were a lot of Division two and a few Division one schools that seemed interested in me, but I decided to go to Clemson.

"If I had it to do again I would come to Clemson. I love Clemson football. I love to play in Death Valley, especially with our fans. It is incredible to hear all the noise. I was never in a situation in my life where 80,000 people are cheering for you, they really support us.

"Being able to play all four years and in the Peach Bowl are two of the best things about my time at Clemson. Not everyone that plays college football can say that they played in all but one game over their four years. Even though I got hurt in the Bowl game, it was still a thrill to be in the bowl game atmosphere. There is no other place like Clemson and I have really enjoyed my time here."

Hausgen will take many great memories with him when he leaves Clemson. Though his football playing days are likely over after this season he has entertained the idea of keeping football in his life by being a coach.

You can be sure that his team will play hard, emphasize the importance of special teams play...and play all its games on natural grass.

Hausgen suffered a serious knee injury against Kentucky in the 1993 Peach Bowl, but has come back strong.

BAND PROGRAM

By Brenda Rabon

As the crispness of autumn fills the air tonight, "A Rock-Solid Tradition" of Clemson Tiger football celebrates one hundred years. The Centennial Celebration begins as the Clemson Tigers battle the Georgia Bulldogs in Memorial Stadium for a 6:39 PM kickoff. Tiger faithful have been anxiously awaiting this game to celebrate a century of successful Tiger football.

Over the years, Clemson has not played many night games. Only 15 have been played dating back to September 25, 1948 with a win over Presbyterian College. For most of the years, Clemson's fan base has reached a circumference of over 300 miles. Realizing this fact, Clemson administrators have attempted to schedule Tiger home games to allow fans to attend the game and go home all in the same day.

But, there was a positive response to the 1992 Florida State game so, for special occasions, such as the start of the centennial, most fans are ready for tonight's game. All this bottled up spirit will release this evening, when the infamous Tiger Band marches onto Frank Howard field.

Tiger Band has been the official marching band of Clemson University for years. Known nationwide for its precision marching, dynamic sound, and famous Clemson Spirit, the band performs at all Clemson football games, both home and away. Tiger Band remains as only one of a handful of schools in the nation who performs at all road games.

Every year the band plays before hundreds of thousands of fans and has appeared at professional football games, in Bowl Parades, on televised broadcasts, and at numerous bowl games, including the Orange, Peach, Independence, Citrus, Gator, and Hall of Fame Bowls. Tiger Band was also the first college marching band in history to perform at a NASCAR Winston Cup Series event when it was on the program at the Opening Ceremonies of the 1993 Hooters 500 NASCAR Race at the Atlanta Motor Speedway.

Tonight, Tiger Band performs the traditional pregame show under the direction of Dr. Mark Hosler. The group makes its traditional sideline entrance with the sound of the famous "Sock It To 'Em/Tiger Rag." Memorial Stadium's atmosphere explodes with that famous Tiger spirit, and the celebration of 100 years of Clemson football begins.

Pregame festivities continue with one of John Phillip Sousa's most renowned marches, "Washington Post." The colors are presented by the Clemson University Pershing Rifles Company C4. Everyone then stands and joins Tiger Band to honor America in singing "God Bless America."

After the invocation, the crowd joins in the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the National Anthem, which is conducted by Clemson University Director of Bands, Dr. Richard Goodstein. Tiger Band then invites everyone to join in the singing of the Clemson University Alma Mater.

Members of the 1939 football team have the honor of dotting the "i" in the traditional script Tigers formed by Tiger Band during pregame festivities. The 1939 team, led by Banks McFadden, defeated Boston College in the Cotton Bowl, Clemson's first bowl game ever, and finished with a #12 national ranking,

Clemson University Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

Clemson's first top 20 season in history. They are part of the 6:39 start time this evening. The six is derived from Clemson's first year of football (1896) and the first bowl team was the 1939 team.

Tiger Band presents "Songs of the South" as a part of the Centennial Celebration halftime show. Music selections include "Doo Dah," "Cotton Fields," "Ol' Man River," and the most "famous" song of the South—"Tiger Rag!"

Featured tonight are the Tiger Twirlers who have earned the reputation as one of the finest twirling lines in the country. Each spring auditions are held for positions as a Tiger Twirler.

This season's Tiger Twirlers are: Kelley Brown, a sophomore from Piedmont, SC majoring in Management; Nicole Corrado, a junior from Export, PA majoring in Psychology; Kristen Hanson, a senior from Durham, NC majoring in Civil Engineering; Sara Moore, a junior from Chesterfield, SC majoring in Special Education; Kim Penninger, a sophomore from Anderson, SC majoring in Management; and Twirler Captain Carrie-Ann Dunn.

Dunn is in her first year as Twirler Captain and her fourth year as a Tiger Band Twirler. The native of Selden, NY graduated from Centereach High School. Dunn is in her senior year at Clemson as an Industrial Management major.

This fall marks Dr. Mark Hosler's fourth season as the Marching Band Director. Before joining the ranks at Clemson, Dr. Hosler was Assistant Marching Band Director at his alma mater, Ohio State University. Dr. Hosler does an outstanding job preparing Tiger Band for performances for both Tiger home and away games.

Tiger Band staff includes Dr. Mark Hosler, Tiger Band Director, Dr. Rick Goodstein, Director of Bands, Cheryl Hosler, Flag Line Instructor, and Hazel Cartee, Twirler Instructor.

As another chapter in Clemson football history begins with the Centennial Celebration, Tiger fans thank Tiger Band for being the generator of Clemson spirit for all these years. Without the "The Band that Shakes the Southland" striking up "Tiger Rag," Clemson football just would not be the same.

ALL-TIME TEAM CANDIDATES

As part of the Centennial of Clemson football an all-time Clemson team will be chosen. Two teams will be named, a one-platoon team (players who went both ways) and a two-platoon team. The one platoon players capture the 1896-1949 and 1953-64 era, while the two-platoon era captures 1950-52 and 1965-present. Having two teams should ensure a representation covering the entire history of Clemson football.

This page is not a ballot, it is merely a list of players to consider when ballots are available (in January at Bilo stores, in the Orange & White and at the Clemson-UNC game on Nov. 4). The players listed below were All-Southern, All-ACC, or All-American. Players who were multiple year second-team All-ACC are also listed. After their name is their highest honor, then the year they received the honor. You will be able to vote for anyone you want by using a write-in location on the ballot.

The two teams will be announced at the 1996 Spring Game and a Centennial poster featuring the 35 players will be sold during the 1996 season.

CLEMSON POTPOURRI

by Tim Bourret

Edwards Still Competing at Age 76

The accomplishments of Clemson's 1939 team are honored today as we begin the Centennial Celebration of Tiger football. One of the members of that team is still competing athletically with distinction.

Ernest Edwards, who was a sophomore end who lettered on that 1939 team, recently won the National Master's Weightlifting Championship of the United States. Now at age 76, he is currently the Georgia State Champion of the Master's Division, won the Gold Medal at the Georgia Games for the Masters Division and was a Bronze Medal winner at the World Masters Championship.

Edwards, an orthopedic surgeon in Savannah, GA, competes in the 99 and 108 kilo classes. He owns all the United States records in the 108 kilo class. Edwards graduated in 1942 with a pre-med degree.

A True Clemson Fan

Kim Watkins, a writer with the Daily Courier of Forest City, NC, sends along this story of the bond that exists between Clemson fans.

"Jim Adams, 76, Clemson Tigers fan and father of Al Adams (former Clemson assistant SID) of Forest City, suffered a stroke on August 1. As a result, his right arm and leg were left paralyzed and he's been in a Lancaster hospital for rehabilitation therapy ever since.

"Jim and his wife Emily have had season tickets to Clemson football games since 1970 and Jim has missed just three home games in 25 years.

Ernest "The Horse" Edwards was on a championship football team at Clemson and is still winning titles today.

Clemson was one of the first schools to put its logo on its footballs, but the Tigers used a Northeastern pigskin at Wake Forest.

"Jim and Emily made a few friends in those seats over the years, especially Mr. and Mrs. Mack Alman of Spartanburg. Jim wanted to be at Clemson for the season opener with Western Carolina, but he couldn't.

"Instead of making the normal route to Death Valley for the Western Carolina game, the Alman's made the 90-mile drive to Lancaster. There, they listened to the game on the radio with Jim, in his hospital room.

"Al said his father was thrilled to death to have them there, it really meant a lot to him.

"In a nation hungering for good news, stories of people being neighborly really warms your heart."

Northeastern Offense?

Everyone talks about the West Coast offense of the San Francisco 49ers. But, what about Clemson's Northeastern Offense? At least, that is what you could have called Clemson's offense at Wake Forest this year.

In the first half, the Tigers were struggling on offense, committing three turnovers in a half that was tied 8-8. At halftime, due to the inclement weather, Clemson Equipment Manager David McClain opened a new box of balls, as Clemson's first batch was already too wet to use.

Much to his surprise, all the balls in the box said Northeastern on them. Not a Tiger Paw to be found! The manufacturer had sent Clemson the wrong balls in the summer, something that never happens. No word on whether Northeastern has been playing with balls bearing Tiger Paws.

McClain told his ball boys to put the Northeastern balls in the game anyway, because only the name was different. At least they were dry. As superstition would have it, Clemson scored on its first possession of the second half to take the lead. The offense kept moving so the ball boys made sure Clemson used Northeastern balls in the second half. All three Clemson touchdowns in the second half comeback were scored with Northeastern balls and the Tigers left with a 29-14 victory.

Weather

Every one of our major audiences for this program (fans, the media, recruits, coaches and administrators) is interested in the weather. We get a lot of calls from people making their first trip to Clemson for a football game and they want to be prepared. Well, if you are playing the percentages, prepare for a sunny day, about 70 degrees.

Over the last 17 years the average temperature for a Clemson home game has been 69.12 degrees. Of the 104 home games played during this time, the weather has been predominantly sunny 68 times. It has rained just nine of the last 104 games at Death Valley, over the last 17 years, including the last home game against Virginia. It rained twice at home games in 1988 and in 1992, but those are the only years in the last 17 in which it has rained more than once.

The 1992 season was probably the worst weather year at Clemson in some time as it was predominantly cloudy for five of the six games and the average temperature was just 62.83 degrees, the coolest since 1981 (62.67).

Overall, Clemson usually plays in good weather. The Tigers have had to play in the rain just 18 times in the last 17 years regardless of site. Only two years in the last 17 has it rained as many as three games, in 1986 and in 1993. In 1986 it rained on three consecutive Saturdays, against N.C. State, Wake Forest and North Carolina.

THE LAST WORD

by Bob Bradley

Today is supposed to be the last contest of the Clemson-Georgia football series. But possibly the old adage of 'never say never' could come out of retirement one day. The Tigers and "Dawgs" first met in 1897 (it was Dogs back then). Today is the 60th meeting as Georgia holds a rather commanding 38-17-4 lead in the series.

Some say that Clemson's 7-6 win over the 17th-ranked "Dawgs" in 1977 was the game that turned the Tigers around. Clemson did go on that season to win six in a row, ending with an 8-2-1 regular season record and its first post-season invitation in 18 years.

After that victory head coach Charlie Pell had the team buses stop in Commerce on the way back to Clemson and directed the managers to go in and buy enough cigars for each team member. That started a tradition that went on after each win in Pell's two years and the first few of the Danny Ford era.

In that '77 campaign, Clemson closed out with its odd-year trip to Columbia for the South Carolina game. The Tigers jumped out to a 24-0 lead, only to see the Gamecocks come back to take a 27-24 lead with less than three minutes to play. Under their jerseys many of the South Carolina players had on a T-shirt imprinted with, "No Cigars Tonight," and some put them on display when the 'Cocks took that 27-24 lead. If Coach Jim Carlen could have gotten his hands on some of those players, he would have turned them wrongside out.

But still to come in that contest was "The Catch" from Steve Fuller to Jerry Butler to win the game...much akin to the Joe Montana to Dwight Clark catch when San Francisco defeated the Dallas Cowboys. It gave the Tigers a 31-27 victory and a trip to the Gator Bowl.

Georgia was the only team to defeat Clemson (12-0) in '78, that coming in the second game of the season, also played in Athens. Shutting out that Clemson team that started seven players who would play in the NFL was quite an accomplishment. That 1978 team still has the Tiger record for total offense in a season, a mark this year's team might challenge. But the 1978 Tigers reeled off 10 straight victories after the loss at Athens, including a 17-15 squeeze past Ohio State in the Gator Bowl and a final national ranking of No. 6.

Clemson won 12-7 in Death Valley in 1979, but the two teams played one of the strangest games ever between the hedges the following year.

In the first half, the Dawgs only had the ball for 11 offensive plays for 24 yards, compared to 56 plays for 256 yards for the Tigers, yet led by a 14-10 score. The difference was "Mr. Return"—Scott Woerner. He had a punt return of 67 yards for a touchdown and then returned a pass interception for 98 yards to the Clemson two. Herschel Walker couldn't get in on first down, but quarterback Buck Belue sneaked in on the next try. The Tigers outgained Georgia and had 16 more first downs, yet lost, 20-16.

Georgia's bid for the 1980 national championship began to unfold. That was the third win of the year of a 12-0 season. The Dawgs gave up many yards in the last four games, but each one ended up as a 'W' for the Georgians. To win the national title, only Notre Dame stood in the way and in a bitterly-fought contest in the Sugar Bowl, another game in which the opposition outgained Georgia by over 100 yards, the Bulldogs squeezed past, 17-10.

It was Clemson time in 1981. The Tigers would win their 61st opening home game against Wofford, which was a late, late replacement for Villanova after the Wildcats decided to drop football in the spring of '81. Clemson played its second game in the Superdome in New Orleans with Tulane and this was a rather weird 60 minutes. The Green Wave led 5-0 (field goal and safety) at the end of the first period. But the Tigers were up 7-5 at halftime and tacked on another score in the fourth quarter for a 13-5 win.

The defending national champion and fourth ranked Bulldogs were next in Death Valley and this would be a game Georgia would just as soon forget. The Tigers intercepted five passes and recovered four fumbles. These nine takeaways are still a one-game Clemson record. Ten of 13 Tiger points came off turnovers.

Tim Childers intercepted a Buck Belue pass and returned four yards to the Dawg 18 where, on the fourth play, Homer Jordan passed eight yards to Perry Tuttle, whose body was parallel to the ground (see photo) as he made the reception. There were 7:13 left in the half.

With 29 seconds remaining before intermission, William Perry pounced on a Herschel Walker fumble. Jordan gained six and Cliff Austin added five before Donald Igwebuike was true on a 39-yard field goal, and most of the 62,446 on hand gave the Tigers a 'standing O' as they left the field with a 10-0 margin.

In eight Georgia possessions in the first half, there had been a missed field goal, two interceptions, three fumbles and two punts. It wouldn't get much better for the visitors in the second 30 minutes.

The Bulldogs took the second half kickoff and drove from their 20 to the Clemson 24 before Kevin Butler booted a 40-yard field goal and narrowed the lead to 10-3. But then Georgia would go punt, punt, interception, interception and interception.

After that second punt, the Tigers gained possession at the 'Dawg 45. Two Jordan to Tuttle passes netted first downs before the third quarter ended. But two running plays and an incomplete pass brought up fourth-and-two, and Igwebuike chipped in a 29-yarder; but only 59 seconds had gone by in the fourth quarter.

Georgia would control the ball for over nine minutes of the fourth quarter and make six first downs in three possessions. But then Clemson ended the Bulldog march with an interception. The only semblance of a scoring threat by either team the remainder of the game was a 41-yard field goal attempt by Igwebuike—which was short.

When the gun went off Tiger fans celebrated. Beating Georgia was cause enough to celebrate, but this was the number-four ranked team in the nation and the defending national champion. It was a team effort, especially on defense. The nine turnovers forced by the Clemson defense had been taken away by nine different players. Herschel Walker had been held out of the endzone and Clemson's 13-3 victory would be the only regular season loss of his three-year career.

The Tigers swept through 12 opponents that '81 season, grabbing their national title from another fourth-ranked team, Nebraska, 22-15, in the Orange Bowl. But, that victory over Georgia gave the team confidence and was the key regular season game in the most celebrated season in Clemson's 100-year history.

Surely two national powers just 75 miles apart won't say 'never' to ever playing again. There's too much history steeped into the 98-year series.

Tuttle scored the only touchdown in Clemson's 13-3 victory over Georgia in 1981.
